FORMER CROWN PRINCE ESCAPES INTO GERMANY; ALLIED NATIONS SCENT COUP BY THE MILITARISTS

Revolution Is Brewing In Germany

LONDON, June 26.—Disorders are increasing in Berlin, the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Amsterdam reports. Many streets there are barricaded and there have been serious engagements between government troops and mobs.

In military circles in Berlin, the dispatch adds, it is asserted that a counter-revolution will begin as soon as a successful revolt against the government is started.

Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, in reply to request from Minister of Defense Noske, concerning the allied request of German reservations in the peace treaty, said that in the event of a resumption of hostilities, according to a Berlin dispatch, the Germans would be able to reconquer Posen and maintain the frontiers to the east, but hardly would be able to reckon on success in the west. The field marshal is said to have added:

"A favorable issue to our operations is therefore very doubtful, but as a soldier, I must prefer an honorable fall to an ignominious peace."

A report from Berlin Wednesday said that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg had resigned from the chief command. Later dispatches said that General Groener had succeeded him.

RETURNS TO NATIVE LAND

FORMER CROWN PRINCE
WILLIAM OF GERMANY

G. W. STEVENS TO TALK
HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 26.—George W. Stevens, federal director of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad company will make the principal address before the graduating class of the Chesapeake & Ohio hospital at the commencement exercises to be held Tuesday night at the Emmanuel Methodist church.

Mueller And Bell To Sign For Germany

BERLIN, Wednesday, June 25.—(By the Associated Press).—Hermann Mueller, the foreign minister, and Dr. Bell, the colonial minister, it was announced tonight, have been selected as the German envoys to sign the peace terms. They will leave Berlin Friday.

PARIS, June 26.—Efforts were being made today to arrange for the signing of the peace treaty at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The council of three is apparently satisfied with the semi-official assurances that the Germans would be on hand.

Although the unofficial intimations received was that the German signatories probably would be Hermann Mueller, the foreign secretary, and Herr Giesberts and Herr Leinert, of the old delegation, it developed today that Herr Giesberts, who had remained in Versailles for a time, had left there for Germany. A third man will be named, however, to accompany

Herr Mueller and Herr Leinert, it is indicated.

TELL GERMANS TO FULFILL TREATY

LONDON, June 26.—President Ebert, of Germany, Premier Bauer and all the ministers have issued a proclamation to the German people, according to a wireless message from Berlin, announcing the conclusion of peace and urging as the first pressing need the banding of all efforts to its fulfillment.

"As far as it is possible to carry it out," says the proclamation, the treaty must be carried out.

It declares faithful loyalty to those threatened with separation from the Empire and promises to intercede for themselves, as we would intercede for ourselves.

It concludes by exhorting the people realize the need of work and faithfulness to duty for the redemption of the country.

Rumored Ex-Kaiser Will Also Attempt To Return

PARIS, June 26.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German Crown Prince, has escaped from Holland and made his way into Germany.

News of the escape of the ex-crown prince caused a considerable stir in peace conference circles. While it is not felt that he is a figure around which the reactionaries and monarchists would gather enthusiastically, nevertheless, his act is regarded as an event of considerable significance, in view of other German recalcitrancy.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Confidential reports that the former German crown prince and also probably the former emperor would attempt to re-enter Germany after the signing of the peace treaty were received recently by government officials here. This became known today after an Associated Press dispatch telling of the escape of the crown prince had been received.

The former German crown prince was interned by the Dutch government on the Island of Wieringen and if he preserves his status as a soldier the opinion of international law authorities here is that the Netherlands government may be held accountable for the associated powers for his escape.

It was explained that the rules of war and neutrality require the government of any nation that affords asylum to a fugitive soldier to intern him for the period of the war and that in this instance that period technically has not elapsed. Officials said one effect of the escape undoubtedly would be to cause the authorities of Holland to renew precautions to prevent the escape of the former emperor.

Hints have come from Germany within the last few days that the military caste there would not be averse to bringing about a military situation within the former empire that would embarrass the allies in putting the peace treaty into effect, and it seems not improbable that the move made by the ex-crown prince is connected with some such plan.

The former crown prince made his way into Holland shortly after the signing of the armistice last November and was interned there by the Dutch government, taking up his residence on the Island of Wieringen, in the Zuider Zee.

Two days before the armistice was signed, a decree issued by the German imperial chancellor, Prince Max of Baden, announcing a decision of the former German emperor to abdicate, stated:

"The imperial chancellor will remain in office until the questions connected with the abdication of the emperor, the renouncing of the crown prince and of Prussia, and the setting up of the regency have been settled."

"This generally was accepted by the public as an official announcement of the crown prince's intention to renounce his rights to the succession."

Later, however, the crown prince denied any such intention in an interview given to the Associated Press correspondent at Osterland, Holland, December 3, 1918. At that time the crown prince said:

"I have not renounced anything and I have not signed any documents whatever."

"However," he continued, "should the German government decide to form a republic similar to the United States or France, I should be perfectly content to return to Germany as a simple citizen ready to do anything to assist my country. I should even be happy to work as a laborer in a factory."

"At present everything appears chaotic in Germany, but I hope things will right themselves."

ALLEGED RENUNCIATION
Notwithstanding this categorical statement, the semi-official Wolff bureau, of Berlin, three days later issued what was said to be the exact text of the crown prince's renunciation of his rights to the throne. This document read:

"I renounce formally and definitely all rights to the crown of Prussia and the imperial crown which would have fallen to me by the renunciation of the emperor-king, or for other reasons."

"Given by my authority and signed by my hand, done at Wieringen, December 1, 1918."

"WILHELM." The ex-crown prince has given numerous interviews to various correspondents since his arrival in Holland and has complained in some instances of having been misquoted. As regards the Associated Press interview mentioned, however, the correspondence who obtained it, holds an autographed letter from the ex-crown prince in which the latter states that in this interview he was quoted correctly in every particular.

FOLLOWED QUIET LIFE
Since the former crown prince had been on the Island of Wieringen, he is reported to have lived a quiet life, taking his exercise in walks with his dogs and some times doing manual work.

PROHIBITION LEGISLATION IS SPLIT IN THREE PARTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—The house judiciary committee voted today to split prohibition legislation into three parts, with enforcement of war time prohibition separate and distinct from the others, which related to constitutional prohibition and the manufacture of industrial alcohol.

For the first section the committee decided to submit in whole its war time enforcement bill introduced at the last session of congress and on which no action was taken.

While much less drastic than the general measure, this defines intoxicants as beverages containing more than one-half of one percent alcohol. It contains no provisions, however, which would make it unlawful for a person to "possess" liquor.

Members pointed out that by adopting this plan there would be no confusion later on if the president should issue a proclamation declaring demobilization completed, which would end war time prohibition.

A general bill containing the three separate sections or titles will be reported this week.

BREWERS' INJUNCTION MODIFIED

NEW YORK, June 26.—The United States circuit court of appeals, in an opinion handed down today modified the injunction recently granted by Federal Judge Meyer against United States District Attorney Saffery and Acting Collector of Internal Revenue McElligott. The opinion of the higher court permits the prosecutor to proceed against alleged violators of the war time prohibition act.

HINDENBURG'S SUCCESSOR QUITS POST

BERLIN, Wednesday, June 25.—(By the A. P.).—General Groener, who succeeded Field Marshal Von Hindenburg as German chief of staff, has tendered his resignation to President Ebert, but has agreed to remain at his post until the situation in the eastern provinces becomes stabilized.

Revolution In Hamburg

LONDON, June 26.—Representatives of industrial councils have assumed full political and military power in Hamburg, and are sitting in the town hall, according to advices from Berlin, quoting newspaper advices received there. General Von Lettow-Vorbeck has been ordered to Hamburg with strong forces to restore order.

The stock exchange building, at Hamburg, it is added, was damaged seriously in the fighting for possession of the town hall. The industrial commission reported in control there consists of twelve men.

GERMANS MUST PAY FOR SINKING WARSHIPS

PARIS, June 26.—Germany has been notified in a note sent today by the allies that they possess the right to punish the persons responsible for the destruction of the German ships and to collect reparation for the loss. The sinking of the fleet is denounced as a violation of the armistice and a deliberate breach in advance of the conditions of peace.

When the investigations have been completed, the note states, the allies will exact "the necessary reparation."

Reparation also will be asked for the burning of the French battle flags, which under the treaty Germany was to have returned to France. Germany is warned that such acts as are noted "must have a very unfortunate effect upon the future operation of the treaty."

Germany's protests against the long period of allied occupation provided for in the treaty, and her complaint that her admission to the League of Nations might be too long delayed, are contrasted in the note with the violations of her engagements set forth. It is pointed out inferentially that the treaty provides for successive evacuations of various parts of German territory at stated periods and that it stipulated that the occupying forces should be withdrawn entirely at any time Germany had complied with all the undertakings under the treaty.

Germany, however, the note adds, "cannot complain should the allies exact the full powers conferred on them by the treaty, particularly Article 42 (that dealing with the question of territorial occupation which provides that it might be continued indefinitely) if she, on her side, deliberately violates its provisions."

The text of the letter sent today to the German peace delegation is as follows:

"Mr. President:—The terms of the armistice signed by Germany on the eleventh of November, 1918, provided as follows:

"Article 23.—The German surface warships which shall be specified by the allies and the United States shall forthwith be disarmed and thereafter interned in neutral ports, or, within the allied ports designated by the allies and the United States. They shall remain under supervision by the allies and the United States, only crew and maintenance parties being left on board."

"On June 21 the German warships which had been handed over to the allied and associated powers were at anchor in the roadstead of Scapa Flow, with the German crew and maintenance parties on board as provided in the armistice, were sunk by these parties (Continued on Page Eight)

RESOLUTION IN CONGRESS TO STOP THE FIGHT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—A resolution requesting the governor of Ohio to prevent "the threatened destruction of the nation's birthday" by a prize fight between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey, at Toledo, Ohio, July 4, was introduced today by Representative Randall, prohibitionist, of California.

"One of the participants in this proposed fight," Mr. Randall said, "engaged in a similar fight a few years ago with Jack Johnson, a fugitive from justice, who has confessed that he was bought off and threw the fight to his adversary."

"Why should a fight between brutal slavers, who were not brave enough to join the war against German murderers, be permitted in this country?"

ARMISTICE BROKEN

PARIS, June 26.—The armistice entered into several days ago by the Poles and Ukrainians has been broken by an advance on the part of the Ukrainian forces, according to information received here today.

SHIPPING PROGRAM IS INCREASED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—In reporting the sundry civil appropriation bill today, the senate appropriations committee increased the shipping board's shipping program from $356,000,000 to $401,000,000.

The committee recommended that the tariff commission be abolished. The house appropriation of $90,000 for salaries of commission members and expenditures was stricken from the bill.

BURLESON REFUSES TO YIELD IN THE WIRE STRIKE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Postmaster General Burleson today told a committee of the American Federation of Labor that he would not direct the telegraph companies to re-employ persons who went on strike, as he considered they had left their work in violation of the rules laid down by the government's wire control board and the war labor board.

BIG HAUL OF BOOZE

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 26.—Twenty-four gallons of whiskey were captured by officers at Kanawha City a few miles from Charleston today, which is the largest haul made recently for the local police. The smugglers used a freight train in transporting the liquor and set the air brakes causing a draw bar to be pulled out, and their discovery.

Germany Held Responsible

PARIS, June 26.—The German peace delegation has been informed in a note from Premier Clemenceau that the German government will be held strictly responsible for seeing that at the time indicated in the treaty all any movement against Polish authority given Poland in Posen and in East and West Prussia.

The text of the note reads:

"Paris, June 26.

"Mr. President:—The allied and associated powers feel it necessary to direct the attention of the German government to the fact that the Polish authorities have come into possession of the attached official German dispatch, which states that, while the German government means to sign the peace, they intend to give unofficial support by all the means in their power to local movements of resistance to the establishment of Polish authority in the territories allotted to Poland in Posen and in East and West Prussia, and to the occupation of Upper Silesia by the allied and associated powers."

"In view of this information the allied and associated powers think it necessary to inform the German government that they will hold them strictly responsible for seeing that at the time indicated in the treaty all troops and all officials indicated by the allied commission are withdrawn and that in the event of local disturbances in resistance to the treaty no support of assistance to the insurgents is allowed to pass across the new frontier into Poland.

(Signed)

"G. CLEMENCEAU"

The telegram referred to in the foregoing letter follows:

"Posen, June 21, 1919.

"The government will sign. Nevertheless, Horsing (provincial president) will proclaim for Silesia and West (provincial president) for Western and Eastern Prussia, war against the east. The government will officially declare its opposition but will unofficially support the action by every means. Horsing has telegraphed today: 'Send my large parcel to Breslau.'"

AMERICANS ARE KILLED IN SIBERIA

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—The officer and three enlisted men were killed, two men were wounded and one officer and four enlisted men were captured in recent fighting with White Russian forces in Siberia, the war department was advised today by Major General Graves, commanding the Siberian expeditionary force.

All of the men were of the thirty-first Infantry. Those killed were: Lieutenant Albert Francis Ward; Corporal Jesse M. Reed, and Privates D. E. Gray and Charles L. Fluke.

Wounded, degree undetermined, were Corporal George A. Jensen, and Private Clarence G. Crail.

ARMY BILL IS PASSED; NAVY BILL UP NEXT

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—Without debate the senate today approved a committee amendment to the naval appropriation bill, increasing the fund for aviation from the $15,000,000 voted by the house, to $35,000,000.

As revised upward by the senate committee, the bill carries about $782,000,000 as compared with $485,000,000 provided by the house. Among the important committee additions are $10,000,000 for federal acquisition of the Cape Cod canal.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—With the army bill out of the way, the senate today began consideration of the annual naval appropriation bill, carrying $648,272,000 which sum is $45,000,000 in excess of that carried in the house bill.

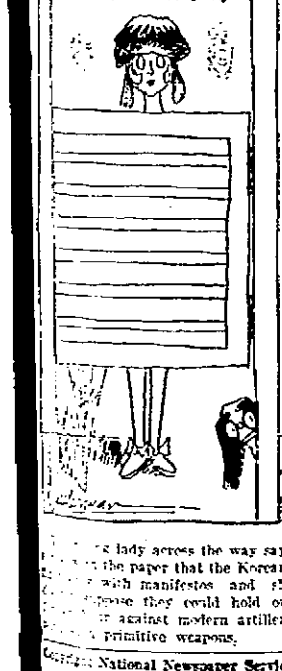

The army bill was adopted late yesterday without a roll call with committee amendments included.

It now goes to conference where numerous items will have to be agreed upon. Chief among these is the provision for an army during 1920 of four hundred thousand men as compared to 200,000 provided in the house bill. Other principal items in the senate bill also show big increases over appropriations voted in the house. These include a $9,000,000 increase for aviation.

As passed by the Senate the principal items of the army bill are $215,555,000 for army pay; $23,261,000 for subsistence and transportation; $31,400,000 for aviation, an increase of about $3,000,000 over the House appropriation; $12,015,000 for the national guard; $15,000,000 for ordnance and $45,000,000 for storage and shipping facilities.

The Senate reduced from $3,200,000 to $2,000,000 the appropriation for purchase of the Dayton-Wright aviation field at Dayton, Ohio under an amendment by Senator Leinert, Republican, Wisconsin which also stipulated that not more than $1,000,000 shall be spent in acquiring 1,200 additional acres of land adjoining the Wright field, after appropriation and recommendation by an army board.

Miss Markham Retains Lead In W. S. S. Contest

The Popularity Contestants now stand with Miss Katharine Markham still in the lead with 6,949 votes; Miss Judith Quanser second, with 4,370 votes, and Miss Helen Scott, who obtained 1,000 votes Tuesday, taking third place with 4861 votes.

The government called upon some of its people for "their last full measure of devotion"; it now calls upon its citizens to make a supreme effort to answer the last call the government will make upon them. The call is that they buy War Savings Stamps.

The government asks that everyone enter with the utmost vigor into this final campaign. State headquarters telegraphed local W. S. S. headquarters that in Scioto county there are people who could probably give from $100 to $1000 in War Savings pledges.

Girls working patriotically throughout the city and county are endeavoring to obtain these pledges and will turn them into votes for the Popularity Contest being staged here now.

FRIDAY IS DAY SET FOR BIG BALL GAME

Friday promises to be a big day in time comes, the bosses said today. Local baseball circles as it is on that day that the ball teams composed of the Court House Officials and Lawyers are scheduled to stage their diamond battle at the Findlay street ball yard.

The players of both teams are showing up fine in practice, according to Managers Harry Dunham and Walter Dickey of the rival teams, and our forces will be ready to enter the fray and battle for the verdict when the time comes, the bosses said today.

EX-KAISER HEARD NEWS AND THEN SAWED WOOD

AMERSON, Tuesday, June 24.—(By the Associated Press)—News of Germany's decision to accept the peace terms, including the clause providing for the delivery of the former German emperor to the allies, reached the castle late yesterday evening. Exactly how the former emperor was affected by the tidings cannot be ascertained, but the attitude of members of his party gives rise to the belief that the news was a considerable shock.

When the Associated Press correspondent talked to attendants they declared the news was already known at the castle. They made the most scathing criticisms of the German national assembly for its action. Evidently they had held to the hope that some way would be found for the former emperor to return to Germany. Now, however, it apparently is realized that he is exiled forever from his country.

The former monarch resumed his customary loggowing at the usual hour.

Anniversary Celebrated

Marilla Lodge No. 476 of Daughters of Rebekah celebrated their twenty-first anniversary at their meeting last evening.

Six charter members, Mrs. Mary E. Boyles, Mrs. Mary E. Cottle, Anna West, Mrs. Anna Brunner, Clara Laubley and Ben Bratt, were present, each making short talks for the benefit of the order. ## GRAND JURY REPORT URGES RESIGNATION OF OFFICIALS

CLEVELAND, O., June 25.—Eight new indictments, all for perjury, were returned by the special grand jury investigating crime conditions and the administration of justice in Cleveland in its final report today. Four other indictments for perjury had previously been returned. The report urges the immediate resignation of County Prosecutor Samuel Doerflinger and Director of Public Safety A. B. Spray.

The report blames widespread vice and gambling conditions upon a police department order preventing police making vice and gambling arrests without specific instructions.

The epidemic of crime in Cleveland last winter is blamed upon failure to convict where arrests were made, quick paroles, lax bail bonding methods and carelessness and inefficiency in court procedure.

All the indictments are for perjury in connection with signing bail bonds or testimony before the special grand jury.

Two Judges And Referee To Handle The Big Fight

TOLEDO, O., June 25.—Definite announcement of the selection of officials for the Willard-Dempsey heavyweight championship fight here, July 4, probably will be made tonight, or tomorrow at the latest.

This was the positive statement of Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest, today. Willard caused a surprise when he announced he had accepted the plan to have three officials, two judges and a referee to decide the contest.

Dr. Frank E. Spaulding, superintendent of the Cleveland schools, who recently returned from Europe, in his first public address on the educational work attempted in France for the American expeditionary forces today told the association that remarkable results had been attained in the army schools in France and Germany.

"It is a fact," he said, "that one-fourth of the splendid forces we sent overseas were illiterate and the standard psychological tests, but the army schools worked wonders. The war has shown that America is not yet sufficiently educated. We are a nation of sixth graders and we are better prepared today for the emergencies of peace than we were two years ago for the emergencies of war."

Announcement that the Columbus school board had increased teachers' salaries 25 to 33 percent, provoked a storm of applause.

Elmer Shope, 21, brickworker, of South Webster, and Edna Thompson, 18, housekeeper, Scioto Furnace, they were married by Squire A. J. Finney.

Tractor and Engine Co. of Portsmouth, at Columbus, today, early in the beginning of the expansion of what planned to become one of the leading industries of this community.

The company is incorporated at $2,000,000, and the incorporators are Heer, F. E. Adams, George W. Day, F. N. Tynes and M. Heer.

The increase in the capital of the company is to take care of the rapidly expanding engine and tractor business. Orders have been coming in at a rapid rate both from this country and abroad. The officers of the company announced and it is to care for this business the more working capital is deemed a necessity.

The Heilbath Company is now making the Heilbath 10-20 farm tractor, which uses kerosene oil and the Heilbath Heer, two-cylinder opposed cylinder and portable engines for all kinds of power purposes.

The plant at Spring Lane and the N. & W. railroad, covers about three acres and is connected with the N. & W. by its own switch. It is a splendidly equipped, modern plant, and is every way fitted for the carrying on of an increasing business. Mr. Chas. Heer said today that alterations and extensions of the plant would be made as rapidly as the necessity arose.

The tractor and engine business is only in its infancy, well developed in it is now and those familiar with the industry prophesy a great future for the Heilbath company.

GRANT STATE ALCOHOL FOR EPIDEMICS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Under an amendment to the prohibition enforcement bill, approved today by the house judiciary committee, a state would be permitted to withdraw tax free from government warehouses alcohol produced at industrial plants and needed by health authorities in the time of epidemic.

In offering the amendment, Representative Goodenough, Republican, of West Virginia, called attention to the situation last year during the Spanish influenza epidemic and said in cases where physicians had used whiskey as the best and most available remedy.

Another amendment approved by the committee provided that patent medicines containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol must be "labeled for use for beverage purposes."

SATURDAY
NIGHTSMasonic Bowling Banquet
Was Magnificent Success

While the members of the Masonic Bowling League have had some great times since the organization was perfected several years ago, the time of all times was held at "Clarendon", the country home of President C. E. Noller, Wednesday evening, the occasion being the annual banquet.

In all thirty-seven members were present and it is needless to add that all rolled a perfect score. The only regrettable feature of the happy occasion was the enforced absence of several of the members who were detained from coming because of pressing business arrangements or illness. However, those who were prevented from being there in person were with the boys in spirit and while they did not get any of the tender fried spring chicken, they resolved that nothing would keep them from being present at the next affair of its kind.

President Noller made a ten strike and several spares when he booked the meeting for "Clarendon". Everything was in complete readiness for the occasion and nothing was left undone to make the evening one of the most enjoyable in the lives of the membership. The surroundings were in happy accord with the spirit of the occasion and the long dining hall where the banquet was served was tastefully decorated with the red, white and blue. The service was faultless, while the dinner could not have been excelled. The committee consisting of

W. F. Zottmann, H. K. Moore and F. J. Baker, with President Noller as chief aid, is to be highly complimented upon the success of the occasion.

At the conclusion of the fine dinner, the members repaired to the bowling alleys to the north and there the committee inflicted many surprises much to the delight of the crowd. Now, the "Clarendon" alleys are not as smooth as the ones at the Play House, but nevertheless the members had a lot of fun shooting for the head pin and while they were not in the best of form, they rung the bell several times and the lucky individuals were presented with suitable mementoes of the occasion—trophies with a kick in 'em, by Heck. When Raymond York won a fox loam by his unerring marksmanship, he was as happy as a kid with his first pair of red top boots, and so on clear down the line. F. W. Sheridan, being big of heart, passed around his trophies in the shape of cigarettes and the artillery fire that ensued rivaled the noise of the batteries in the Argonne Woods. Orson Ogler declares he knows exactly how it feels to be shell shocked and Secretary Baker is ready to take the stand and declare he now knows exactly what it is to be in close proximity to a Bolshevik bomb.

After bowling, which to a large extent modified the stupor that usually follows a big feed, the members re-assembled in the dining hall, where high carnival held forth. William Hazelleck was named as toastmaster and presided with his usual grace and dignity, even if he was outside the corporate limits. First, however, President Noller delivered his annual message which he delivered with much firmness, calling a spade a spade and an ace an ace. He spoke right out in meeting and admitted that all was not as he could have wished—so far, of course, as pertaining to the operation of the league. There was no apparent friction on the score, but certain questions would keep bobbing up that make it rather unpleasant for the officers of the league, although the season of 1918-19 was the most successful in the history of the organization. President Noller thanked all those who had given several minor changes which he thought would eliminate the recurrence of differences. He recommended five men clubs and the expansion of the league to as many clubs as were necessary in order to accommodate all those who cared to bowl.

Secretary Baker's report, which had been prepared with much care, was along the same lines as President Noller's talk. Secretary Baker stated that conditions for next season would be considerably enhanced, inasmuch as he had been authoritatively informed that six new bowling alleys would be installed on the second floor of the new theatre building to be erected on Gaila street next to the General Service building. These alleys will be of the latest improved type and will be laid in mineral rock and cement, and patterned after the alleys recently installed in Harry Davis' big emporium in Pittsburgh. It is hoped to have them available by December first and the Masonic League has first refusal of them.

Then followed the presentation of prizes. Speaking for the league F. W. Sheridan presented the pennant to the bowlers, champions for 1918-19. The pennant is five or six feet long of blue felt and suitably engraved. Charles Springer accepted the gift on behalf of the bowlers, taking the place of Captain Earl A. Clark, who was indisposed and unable to be present. Mr. Sheridan then presented each member of the bowlers with beautiful watch fobs, suitably engraved. They were accepted by William Hazelleck, the low man of the team when it comes to making wool, but the high man when it comes to sawing wood—in other words, orating.

F. W. Sheridan was then made to blush when the toastmaster began to spread the banter as to efficiency at bowling. Mr. Sheridan was lucky enough to emerge with the high average and was given a pair of gold cuff links, inscribed with the Masonic emblem. The recipient stammered his thanks, swallowed his Adam's Apple and spent the rest of the evening admiring his trophy. Cuff links were also presented to the members of the game and the highest three game total.

The presentation gift was made by Secretary Baker, who did not go into details as to how the feat was accomplished. The gifts were accepted and praised by Captain H. D. York. Walter Wilhelm was given a train of Santa-Fe cars, engine and all, because of his grape vine twist, while Dan J. Lloyd was beaming with pleasure because he was presented with a rubber ball and huge safely pin—safely finally all the time. When Dr. Dan finally gets the range down fine, he expects to pin it to his memory. Ernest Elyon was presented with a fine belt for having made the highest total three game score and highest individual score.

As a testimonial to his untiring interest in the success of the league, coupled with the keeping of the most accurate records of teams and individuals, Secretary Baker was presented with a solid gold pencil, and he was so surprised that he could scarcely find anything to say—a most unusual predicament for so famous a speaker as the secretary. But he appreciated the gift beyond expression, Secretary Baker had his feeling, however, when he took President Noller off his feet. Things had quieted to normal when the president was the recipient of a very useful gift, a merited token of much value and more bulk. Fact is, the president was at a loss for words, for his surprise was even greater than that of the secretary. Due to his modesty, a fuller explanation concerning the trophy will have to appear in another issue, as space in this edition is limited.

What would a Stasont bowling banquet amount to if Edward Strittmatter was not remembered with a wrist watch. They last Ed about a year and he is all set with a speech of acceptance concerning the intrinsic worth of wrist watches and what a friend to mankind they are—particularly the kind Ed receives. The one given him last night for having made a score of 501 was a work of art, the carving being exquisitely charming and in keeping with the grain man's temperament. The selection could not have been improved upon—great heavens no. Ask Ed to let you see it.

By the time several fellows relieved themselves of rooms of oratory, W. F. Zottmann, worthy past president, made an impromptu demand that Thomas Jefferson Dupuy be compelled to catch a large fish—nothing less than a 43 pounder, and invite the bowlers to a feed. And, game as a pebble and having complete confidence in his ability to catch said fish, Mr. Dupuy graciously accepted the assignment and will soon, it is hoped, announce the capture.

Thanks for the service, a jolly for the committee, a banquet for President Noller's hospitality in throwing open "Clarendon" to the members and the meeting came to an end.

Those present were: F. J. Linker, W. E. Clayton, Charles E. Diebler, Thos. J. Dupuy, Ernest Elyon, George Freund, O. H. Harb, H. O. Jackson, William Hazelleck, Edward V. Leach, Dallas Lemon, Dan J. Lloyd, "Wild" Clayton, John Millard, Chris Malavazos, E. C. McCoy, C. E. Noller, Geo. Patton, W. A. Pepper, Edward Ricker, Dr. Frank Spencer, Edward Strittmatter, F. W. Sheridan, Salem Shaw, Clarence Shultz, Dr. G. D. Tatle, Clarence Uhl, Earl Reinhard, Walter Wilhelm, H. D. York, Chas. Zedner, W. F. Zottmann, Chas. Springer, Orson Ogler, "Ted" Gunfite, Elmer Helzel, J. B. Burnett, Paul Renard.

The averages as prepared by Secretary Baker will appear in the Sunday issue of the Daily Times together with his report.

Philip Sidney
When we review the life of Sir Philip Sidney, it is certain that one thought will survive all other thoughts about him in our minds. This man, we shall say, was born to show the world what goes to the making of an English gentleman. But he belongs to his age; and the age of Elizabeth differed in many essential qualities from the age of Anne and from the age of Victoria. Sidney was the typical English gentleman of the modern era at the moment of transition from the medieval period. He was the hero of our renaissance.—J. Addington Symonds.

The Life of the Home

By VICTOR RECORD

(Copyright, 1918, by Western Newspaper Union.)
"A tidy man," spoke Mr. Edward Boyd briskly as he tendered a check to Burton Ware, for a full decade of life boy, then clerk, then traveling salesman for the great jobbing house of which the former was the proprietor.

The young man's face portrayed pleasure, pride and satisfaction. Fate had been very kind to him and now he was the possessor of twenty thousand dollars in ready cash.
"You will be quoted as a most meritorious example in this establishment," went on his employer. "You have allowed your commissions and bonuses to accumulate and the result is a substantial one. We are most sorry to lose you, but I suppose you have made up your mind to a change."

"The change means—home," spoke Burton Ware, a tinge of sadness in his tone—"that is, what there is left of it. All my people are gone and when mother died I had to shift for myself. The old house was sold to settle up debts, but to me it is still a cherished spot. All these years I have had one thought—to accumulate a reasonable amount to buy the old home and go into business in a modest way in my native town."

The little town was changed, the people seemed changed when Ware reached it a week later. Few remembered him. Something of the old sense of cheer, familiarity, comradeship came back to him as he found himself in the office of Willis Thorpe, who had been a boyhood chum, now graduated into a leading lawyer.

"The old place has changed owners twice since you lived there," said Thorpe. "The last time old Walter Clyde purchased it. You remember the Clyde, of course?"

"I have never forgotten them," replied Ware with a quick look of interest, and his thought went in a flash back through his lonely years to the brightest days of his life. "You see, I was practical, homesick, after mother died. It was Mrs. Clyde who took me in. She mended up my poor outfit of clothing, gave me a grand farewell meal and she had to do to see me off. I came to the depot to see my own mother when I heard that good news. She was dead. And little James! She was only eight years old then, but she kissed me good-bye, and clung to me, and cried out her little heart because I was going away."
"Yes, Mrs. Clyde died and her husband bought the old place. He has grown a crabbed, peevish and hostile like the last few years."

"And Teresa?" inquired Ware.
"Has shared his solitude and practically made a slave of herself to his exacting and whimsical sense of gratitude and duty toward her aunt. Clyde has been anxious to sell for some time. He has offered it at four thousand dollars."

Ware gazed sorrowfully at the old home when he reached it, not because he was disappointed but from tender clinging memories of the past. To him it was still the dearest spot on earth. There were the old apple trees, the broad spreading porch, the vine-covered wall, the fruit bushes, the familiar hollyhocks and roses. A young girl was busy at some piece in the garden. In an instant Ware recognized the child friend of his boyhood, grown into a woman.

"You don't remember me, Teresa?" he spoke, advancing.

She regarded him with a clear, earnest eye. Her face broke into a sweet, welcoming smile. "Yes, you are Burton Ware, she said. Her color brightened. He thrilled at the warm, sincere clasp of her little brown hand. Just then Mr. Clyde came into view from the street. Ware made his business clear. Twice he visited the old home while the necessary papers of transfer were being prepared. The attraction toward his lovely mistress was emphasized. When he paid off Clyde the latter left the lawyer's office with him.

"I shall go with a married brother where I can live cheap," said Clyde. "And Teresa?" inquired Ware.
"Oh, I settled that with her this morning. She's satisfied with one hundred dollars and the old furniture for what it will bring."
"What?" cried Ware with rising indignation, "after all her faithful services you're not going to turn her adrift?"
"Why, she's no kin of mine," coolly retorted Clyde.

Ware felt him, roused up to a sense of the mean selfishness that stirred him to the depths. He went at once to the old home. Within Teresa was conversing with the aged clergyman whose services she regularly attended. She was saying:
"I have always felt a certain duty toward Mr. Clyde, because of my aunt. Then again, the place here has become very dear to me."
"You have done your full duty, my child. We will find some way of caring for you," spoke the clergyman.
Burton Ware acted on a sudden impulse. He entered the room with glowing eyes.
"Teresa," he said imperiously, "don't leave this home. If you care for me as I do for you, become my wife, here, now," and so life's problem for those two loving souls was solved.

Chinese Streetways.
The Chinese are very skillful in building confederacy and possess the reputation of having some secrets the knowledge of which are very desirable. They are able to empty an orange of the pulp entirely and then fill it up with fruit jelly without one being able to find the slightest bit of the rind or even a tiny bone. Indeed, they even empty an egg of its contents and fill it with a sort of almond-meat, without one being able to find the slightest break or section in the shell.

JUDGE DRAMATIZES WORK OF JUVENILE COURT FOR SCREEN

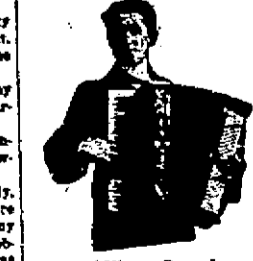

Judge Willis Brown.

In order to interest the public in his efforts to restore the youthful human derelict to society by making him a good citizen, Judge Willis Brown of Salt Lake City has written a number of motion picture scenarios founded on his most interesting experiences during the many years he has been engaged in the moral reclamation of young people. Judge Brown was the first judge of the Utah state juvenile court. His stories will be shown about the country in a very few months.

Professional Earnings.
Questionnaire sent to the graduates of the Harvard medical and law schools brought out the fact that the average physician earns $354 in his first year of practice, about $1,000 in his second year, about $2,000 in his fifth year and nearly $5,000 by his thirtieth year, and that the average lawyer earns $644 in his first year, $1,110 in his second year, $2,008 in his fifth year, $4,422 in his eighth year and $5,825 in his tenth year of practice.

Music and Appetite.
Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel died alone at a restaurant he ordered a meal for three. Haydn, more voracious, delighted in dining alone, and was known to converse a meal that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

HEAR PIETRO TONIGHT In Your Own Home

Victor Record No. 18547—You'll Find Old Dixieland in France, Medley, Fox Trot, played by Pietro with his accordion, offers an up-to-date tune in "You'll Find Old Dixieland in France," which also includes "I Ain't Got Weary Yet" and "Ja-Da." By way of contrast, on the reverse side "Just Blue" is a real piece of Jazz music for Piano, Nylophone and Saxophone, and quite like nothing you ever heard.

SCIOTOVILLE AND WHEELERSBURG

SCIOTOVILLE
Mr. A. Taylor, of Main street, returned today from Fort Recovery, where he visited his brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Steves and brother, Dr. Martin Taylor. On his return he attended the Centenary at Columbus.

Mrs. D. H. Wade and family, of Ashland, spent Wednesday and Thursday with Mrs. W. H. Marsh, of Fourth street.
Herman Bender, who has been seriously ill with typhoid fever for the past seven weeks, is no better. He developed blood-poisoning, which necessitated the amputating of his right leg, which was done this afternoon at his home on Bonser's Run.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Frank Fields are spending a few days at the Great Lakes. They will return home in their new Oldsmobile touring car, which they purchased at the factory at Lansing, Mich.
Willard Basham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basham, of Long Meadow, is ill.

WHEELERSBURG
Mrs. Alice Haugland spent today with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Schell, of Portsmouth.
Mrs. Floyd Samson was a visitor to Portsmouth today.

Mrs. B. F. Brightwell spent today with Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Lemon, of Portsmouth.
A party composed of Mesdames Jacob Schumacher, Bernard Levy, John Duls, Norman Adams, George Koch, Fred Shels and Miss Rose Mary Schumacher attended the Casino at Millbrook park yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Clarence Fritts entertained the members of the Pastime Club yesterday afternoon at the Hartman hotel. A number of guests were present, including Mrs. Claudia McCurdy Agel, of Fort Hill, Texas, and Mrs. Thomas.

Courtesy Always Pays.
When you mingle courtesy with business principles you take out insurance on success. Kate Winslow was only acting the part of a gentleman toward two foreigners whom he was showing through his shop in Baltimore. It later developed that they had been sent to America by the car to select a man to introduce the manufacture of locomotives into Russia. While there were many larger and better equipped shops than his he was the man chosen and within a few years his annual income had reached the $100,000 mark. Good manners have a way of getting where brassknuckles and force have difficulty. The grace and charm of Josephine did more to make France safe than the sword of Napoleon. The courtesy of well-bred manners carries men to fortune and power not possible under any other circumstances.

Eastern "Mad Stones."
In eastern countries robbers are treated by the "tabasheer," or some other form of what are collectively called "snake stones," or "madstones," and which are believed to be a specific for all forms of poisonous bites or wounds. "Tabasheer" is a porous, siliceous secretion found in the stalls of camels. It was used in Persia so long ago as the tenth century, and is carefully described by the French traveler Tavernier, who visited India in the seventeenth century.

Spirits of Trees.
The Mahayana and other Eastern religions believe that each species of tree has a spirit or divinity that presides over its affairs. The spirit of the camphor tree is known by the name of Bham—literally, "a woman." Her resting place is near the tree, and when at night a peculiar noise is heard in the woods resembling that of a cicada, the Bham is believed to be singing and camphor will surely be found in that neighborhood.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 25—A three point drop in Baltimore and Ohio Common, attributed to the suspension of dividends in connection with the road's new bond issue, and an advance of 2 1/2 points in General Motors, were the chief features at the irregular opening of today's stock market. Gains extending from fractions to one point were made by U. S. Rubber, California Packing, United Cigars, American Car and Mexican Petroleum, these being offset, however, by similar recessions in Studebaker, Royal Dutch and Beet Sugar.

Motors, equipment, shipping, oils and metals were in demand after the early uncertainty. The active list, excepting rails, scored gains of 1 to almost 4 points. Buying of coppers was attended by reports of prospective large foreign orders and substantial increase in the equipments were ascribed to favorable trade conditions.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO
June 25—Mixed sentiment, based largely on varying crop conditions in different sections was reflected in the corn market today, prices averaging slightly higher, distant months showing greater strength. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2c lower to 1 3/4c higher, with July 1.50 1/4 to 1.50 3/4, September 1.75 1/4 to 1.75 3/4, held within narrow limits in the early trading with July working away from the initial low.
Oats showed greater strength than corn, opening 1/2c to 5/8c higher, with September at 20 1/2 cents. Later, after

As Easy As A B C's

How far will a dollar go? Just half as far as two dollars. And what will two dollars buy? Not much to eat; not much to wear, but a whole week of mental food and vacation. Meaning?

A Chautauqua Season Ticket

Good for? Four morning, seven afternoon and seven evening sessions. At which? You can hear leading musicians, lecturers and entertainers. Isn't there some trick? No, you get it all—15 sessions—for two dollars—anywhere in the big brown tent. How is it possible? There are 70 other cities on the Redpath circuit and all get the same headline program. SOME SYSTEM! Yes, it eliminates waste and concentrates mileage, greatly reducing operating expenses. Where are these two-dollar tickets? Busy boosters are selling them all over the city. When does the Chautauqua begin?

Then I BUY NOW!

Photos show the aerial station being erected to direct England's huge dirigible to Memphis during trans-Atlantic flight and a group of the best dirigible builders and mechanics from the U. S. navy and army who are making preparations to receive the R-34.

A squadron of American airships are to fly out to meet the British dirigible R-34, the largest aircraft in the world, to the U. S. shores if it arrives on this side as expected. The U. S. navy and army has scoured the country for the best dirigible handlers and mechanics who are now rushing preparations at Roosevelt field to receive the giant craft. The R-34 is due here on a non-stop trans-Atlantic flight from England. Experts from the U. S. navy are also erecting a wireless telephone and telegraph station at the field to direct the dirigible to the landing place. It will communicate with the crew at a distance of 250 miles. British representatives are ready also to welcome the craft.

Realized Great Truth.
Josephine was telling her mother all the wonderful things that had happened at school, where she had just been accepted as a pupil. It was her first day and she was happy and full of importance. But she was her mother's best friend, and she suddenly occurred to her that she may have been misled in the home. So she asked about it. Mother acknowledged that she had indeed misled her, with a sad smile. Josephine asked, then, with a sad smile, "Oh, don't let it worry you when your children grow up and leave you?"

Rich Silver Coins.
In the republic of Honduras the silver currency was for years mated from Spanish dollars. This nearly always contains a certain proportion of gold, which used not to be separated before it went to the mint; so the Honduran silver coins prior to 1911 generally contain a certain proportion of gold.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, friends, work, etiquette etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

My Dear Dolly—As I have read your column so much, I want to ask you a few questions. What do you think of a man who will wear the clothes of a woman's back and then leave home? What time does the E. and K. leave Greenup?

READER:—What, of course, but I do think that the woman ought to help her get a little back bone and be kind to her until she regains her self respect and then she ought to be about it. The wife with the old boy after that, what time does the E. and K. leave Greenup? The E. and K. leave Greenup as soon as they get out in the engine and water in the boiler. Usually takes some time.

Dear Dolly—I'm dreadfully bothered with dandruff. I try everything, but have lost patience. Haven't you something different from the suggestions previously offered?

DISCOURAGED:—This has come to me as an infallible cure for the tendency of dandruff. Take 1/4 teaspoon of borax, 1 teaspoon of sulphur, pour over this 1 pint boiling water. When cool pour into bottle and agitate frequently for two or three days. Apply freely three or four times a week.

Dear Miss Wise—How should an introduction be given? Say introducing one's husband to an aunt, cousin or other relative? What is the population of Portsmouth at the present time?

READER:—One should always introduce the younger person to the older. It is a courtesy to their superior age. The population of Portsmouth at present is 22,000.

An edition of "The Stars and Stripes" published the latter part of May in France gives the following lineup of Divisions which were scheduled to sail in June: 81st, 90th, 6th and 7th.

Dear Dolly—My mother won't let me talk to the boys. Do you think that is right? She won't even let me go to the picture show by myself at night. I think that is wrong, don't you? I am 10 years old.

H. E. C.:—Yes, honey. It's silly not to talk to the boys. That is, if you talk to them without giggling through every sentence and trying to make them laugh. Sometimes the girls who see on the street, in street cars or in automobiles and don't think you are too young to make the proper criticism. Some of them have queer ideas of what is the wrong places on their faces. They often hang tightly to their escorts' arms. In the picture shows they rest their head in the vicinity of his shoulder, in automobiles its even more absurd. About the time when they should be having a really active good time they moon around and don't know what they miss by being solitary instead of playing in crowds.

If you go to the picture show at night you should be accompanied either by your mother, try to interest her in going around with you since she has your welfare at heart, or with some older person, or in a crowd of young people.

Dear Miss Wise—(1) I am a junior in high school. Although I am not good-looking everyone seems to be interested in me at first sight, but soon loses interest. My girl friends and sisters seem to like me and I cannot keep my boy friends. I do my best to be a well behaved, sociable girl. Will you please tell me how I can keep my friends?

(2) Is it proper for a girl to invite a boy friend to her home to spend the evening if they have had previous dates?

BILLY:—(1) Self-interest is an enemy to popularity. Probably you think too much about yourself and do not bother to get the other person's point of view. If you are thoughtful of others and a sympathetic listener, there is no reason why people should not like you.

Perhaps there is something wrong with your disposition. If you find out why your sisters do not like you, you will at the same time discover one reason why your girl or boy friends do not enjoy you after the first time. A disagreeable disposition shows in a person's eyes even if the kindest words are spoken.

(2) It is considered all right for a girl to invite a young man to her home if he has shown previous interest. But in reality it is better for the girl to wait for him to ask to call.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a girl in my early teens. My father runs a restaurant and I work in it practically all day. Sometimes I have my afternoons off.

I have a brother four years older than I. He is always bringing home much money he gets and always tries to keep me from having a good time. I would like to earn some money, part for spending and the rest to put in the bank. Have you any suggestions to make? What could I make or do during spare hours? Do you think it is all right for me to go with my girl friends to the show or have a good time?

IN TROUBLE:—You might take care of children during your spare hours. This would not give you much income, but it would help. A girl in her early teens is handicapped because of her youth and lack of special training. Perhaps you would prefer to make baby clothes. If you are skillful you could make very pretty little articles. It is all right for you to go to shows with your girl friends if you go in the day time, but you should not go at night unless you are accompanied by an older person.

"POLLY"—You must not be selfish in your love. Of course it would be more ideal if you and your husband could start housekeeping alone. But since his mother needs to be with you, there is no other way. Do not look for trouble. Be considerate of your mother-in-law and she and your husband will love you the more for it. Be a strong enough character to overcome conditions which to a weaker nature would bring unhappiness and failure. If your mother-in-law has faults and is unreasonable let your husband see for himself. He will have much more love and sympathy for you when he sees how bravely you are making the best of things.

Perhaps it can be arranged that you have about three months alone with your husband. This will help some and will make you better satisfied in starting your married life with a mother-in-law in the home. Wise mothers-in-law make themselves an addition to the home. If you do your part you will probably find your mother-in-law ready to do hers, and you will live happily together.

GERMANY

MUST PAY

Under the orders of the German admiral in command, according to the information which has been collected and transmitted by the British admiral. The German admiral in command of these parties of the German naval forces has alleged that he acted in the belief that the armistice expired on June 21 at mid-day and consequently in his opinion the destruction in question was no violation of its terms.

"In law, Germany, by signing the terms of Article 23, set out above, entered into an understanding that the ships handed over by her should remain in the ports indicated by the allied and associated powers and that care and maintenance parties should be left on board with such instructions and under such orders as would ensure that the armistice should be observed.

ACT OF BAD FAITH
"The sinking of these ships instead of their preservation as had been provided for, and in breach of the understanding embodied in Article 23 of the armistice against all acts of destruction, constituted at once a violation of the armistice, the destruction of the ships handed over, and an act of gross bad faith toward the allied and associated powers.

"The admiral in command of the care and maintenance parties, belonging to the German naval forces, has, while recognizing that the act was a breach of the armistice, attempted to justify it by alleging his belief that the armistice had come to an end.

"This alleged justification is not well founded, as under the communication to the German delegation by the allied and associated powers on the sixteenth of June, 1919, the armistice would only terminate on refusal to sign the peace or, if no answer were returned on the 23rd of June at 7 o'clock. According to international law, as embodied particularly in Articles 40 and 41 of the regulations annexed to the fourth Hague convention of 1907, every serious violation of the armistice by one of the parties gives the other party the right to denounce it and even in case of urgency to recommence hostilities at once.

TO PUNISH OFFENDERS
"A violation of the terms of the armistice by individuals, acting on their own initiative, only confers the right of demanding the punishment of these offenders and, if necessary, indemnity for the losses sustained.

"It will therefore be open to the allied and associated powers to bring before a military tribunal the persons responsible for these acts of destruction, so that the appropriate penalties may be imposed. Furthermore, the incident gives the allied and associated powers a right to reparation for the loss caused, and in consequence a right to proceed to such further measures as the said powers may deem appropriate.

"Lastly, the sinking of the German fleet is not only a violation of the armistice, but can only be regarded by the allied and associated powers as a deliberate breach in advance of the conditions communicated to Germany and now accepted by her. Furthermore, the incident is not an isolated act. The hunting or permission of the French flags which Germany was to restore, constitutes another deliberate breach in advance of these same conditions.

labor in the village shops, where he made friends of some of the workmen.

Much of his time has been given to writing. Some time ago he was reported to be at work on his memoirs.

A venture into business was reported several weeks ago in official dispatches from Holland received by the state department at Washington. It was announced a company had been organized with "Mr. Frederick Wiljans Holzenollen as the director-manager," to use the calcareous sands of the island of Wieringen in the making of pottery. It was said the former crown prince was a large investor in the enterprise.

One of the pieces of pottery to be put out by the new company, according to these dispatches, is a life portrait of the former crown prince. In outline costume, shown against a background of a church and cottages.

RADICALS START RIOT IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, June 26.—(Herald) broke out here last night at a meeting called by radical cloak and suit workers for the purpose of organizing a union along lines of the Russian Soviet and in opposition to the cloak and suit makers' union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. About 500 persons, many of whom were members of the present union, were present when the trouble began. Two men in the rear of the hall engaged in a heated argument. A policeman intervened, but before he could restore order, two other men came in. These men, who were of great build, began to throw stones at all parts of the hall and efforts of the police and of the cloak and suit makers' union failed to check the disorder. Disturbance spread to the street in front of the hall and continued until a large number of policemen arrived and dispersed the crowd.

Derryvale Genuine Irish Linens

In Portsmouth There Is No Excuse For Buying Any Other Kind

Derryvale linens, nationally advertised and famous all over the world may now be purchased here at Anderson's. And for a few days to introduce them, we are offering the entire line at special prices.

Derryvale genuine Irish table linens and napkins are the most beautiful in the world. They are the most economical because no other linens are so strong, wear so well, and stand the strain of laundering and service.

Derryvale linens are made in the Irish Linen country from the finest flax grown and every piece is sun bleached on the green.

Derryvale linens are moderately priced. You can always identify them by the Derryvale trade mark. Look for it.

We repeat: There's no excuse for buying other table linens and napkins when you can get Derryvale.

PLAN TOUR OF SENATORS FOR FIGHT ON LEAGUE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—With the resolution of Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, for declaration of a state of peace blocked in the senate foreign relations committee, the general prediction about the capital today was that there would be no further formal move in the plan until the committee meets again Monday.

Meantime, however, further debate on the other issues of the League of Nations fight was expected, and there were rumors that new features might be added to the controversy before the week is out. League opponents have in reserve a variety of individual plans for handicapping the treaty's chances of ratification. It became known today that the proposal to send a special train to carry a number of senators on a speaking tour against the league while President Wilson is speaking in his behalf, had reached the point where a tentative itinerary is being arranged. Senator McCormick, Republican, of Illinois, who has the arrangements in charge, said, however, that the plans were far from complete. Details of the president's hour, as yet unannounced, probably will be considered before the project finally is approved.

New Method Keeps All Teeth Spotless

Do you imagine that because you "clean" your teeth regularly that they are spotless? Just take a hand mirror over to the window where the light is good, examine your teeth closely and notice the stains and tartar. Why are they there? Because your dentifrice is powerless to remove them, even though you scrub your teeth several times a day. The stains are really discolored films—thin coatings of fat—which the usual powders, pastes and liquids do not penetrate. You will be glad to know that there is a new product discovered by a well-known dentist which will positively remove all stains or spots—whether yellow, black or gray—color—almost as quick as a wink—without scratching or harming the teeth in the least. Just get a package of "One-Week Tooth Polity" from your grocer, use a little on your tooth brush—then consult your mirror again. The result will surprise you most agreeably. If you will use One-Week Tooth Polity twenty times, the trouble will not return. The germ which multiplies underneath these films will disappear, leaving no longer accumulations, tooth decay will be prevented—nearly white teeth will have a new meaning to you.

HERE IS DRUNK NO. 7

William "Plaza Bill" Kennedy, noted police character, made his second appearance in police court this morning after the trial of a drunkenness charge. He pleaded guilty and the mayor taxed him $5 and costs and ordered him held until he gets good and sober. Kennedy was sent up in a fight by a man named Cutlip.

Put O. K. On Street Fair

Mayor H. H. Kays, Chief Henry Clark and Lou Heider, of Central Labor Council, motored to Chillicothe last night where they took a stand at the Krause Street Fair, which is being held at the ancient metropolis this week. "Absolutely the best and cleanest of attractions of any carnival that ever came under our observation," the trio said this morning on being asked about the carnival.

Gamblers Caught When Alger House Is Raided

CATLETTSBURG, June 26—Eight Catlettsburgers were caught in a gambling house which was raided by the police of Catlettsburg, Tuesday. When nothing was to be heard but the click of the chips and the low whistle of one of the players with a royal flush, the police stealthily entered the Alger house and took a hand, soon returning to the station with a full house.

Building Activity Will Stimulate All Business

Cutting down production, producing less food, less clothing, less fuel, never has and never will reduce prices. If we want to reduce living costs we must increase production, and all are agreed the place to begin is in the building industry. Any one who builds a home, a factory, or an office building, makes business for more than a hundred correlated and contributing industries. Each building erected sends its wave of demand through the industrial organization, from the ditch diggers to the bank presidents and back, and by the way of pay envelopes to the ditch diggers again.

Revival At Fullerton

Rev. Daniel Murphy, who so successfully conducted revival meetings at Salem and Fullerton, Ky., is now holding a series of meetings at the Christian church in Fullerton. Rev. Murphy has aroused much interest in church circles by his enthusiastic sermons. The meetings have been well attended. Tonight a special musical program will be given. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Soothes Chafed Skin

Some fleshy people suffer all the year round from chafing. Many others are particularly tortured in the summer time. There is no longer any need for this annoyance, for it has been demonstrated—times without number—that soothing, healing Houstonia (The Original Jones') Liniment, applied lightly to the affected parts, brings instant relief and quickly heals the tortured skin. Houstonia, unlike other liniments, neither burns, smart, blisters, nor otherwise irritates, even the flesh is raw and bleeding. Moreover, it is antiseptic. No danger of infection when Houstonia is used. Houstonia Liniment has been in many homes for fifty years. It should be in your home today.

BUYS NEW FIRE HOSE

The Board of Control met Wednesday afternoon at the city building and let the contract for 1,000 feet of new fire hose. The contract was given to three different concerns. A contract for 600 feet of Arrow double jacket hose was let to the Fabric Fire Hose Company of New York City. Their price was $120 per foot. A contract for 200 feet of Ray State double jacket hose was let to the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber Company of Cambridge, Mass., on their bid of $115 per foot. The Bimetal Fire Hose Company of Chicago was given the contract for furnishing 200 feet of ideal double jacket hose at their bid of $115. The Europa Fire Hose Company, Columbus, bid $1 per foot on single jacket hose. The Arrow hose has been used here and has been found satisfactory. The other two firms were given contracts as their samples had several fine points which the Board decided to give a trial, so let the contract for two small lots of hose.

THE MEN IN CLASS A

A sound, healthy man is never a backslider. A man can be as vigorous and as active at seventy as at twenty. Conditions, of course, play a part in this. A man weakened by overwork and care, the body's functions are impaired and unpleasant symptoms appear. The weak spot is generally the kidneys. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you will generally find yourself in Class A. The GOLD MEDAL Standard Kid Capsules periodically and your system will always be in working order. Your spirits will be enhanced, your muscles supple, your mind active, and your body capable of hard work. Don't wait until you have been rejected. Commence to be a first-class man now. Go to your druggist at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Standard Kid Capsules. They are made of the pure, original, imported Hawaiian Oil—the kind your great-grandfather used. Two capsules each day will keep you toned up and feeling like a young fellow. If they do not help you, remember to ask for the important GOLD MEDAL Brand. In those of "bad" packages.

CARS DITCHED AS PROTEST ON HIGHER FARES

TOLEDO, O., June 26—More than 2,000 employees of the Toledo Ship Building Company refusing to submit to an increase in street car fare late yesterday afternoon, ditched two cars and in the violence that followed, windows in two others were smashed with bricks. One car caught fire. The Toledo Railway and Light Company, yesterday instituted a new fare rate, an increase of one cent over the old rate. The trouble at the shipyards started when the cars commenced to fill. Crews of the first car were forced off and one of the passengers ran the car to the Hocking Valley docks where it was turned over.

Situation Wanted

I want a job washdays and cleaning days to cut down your work.

I can do a big lot of it with water—cool, lukewarm or hot—don't need the hot water if you would like to get away from the trouble and cost of a fire.

I will do the work in about one-half the usual time.

I will save you a lot of rubbing with the washboard—make your clothes last longer for that reason.

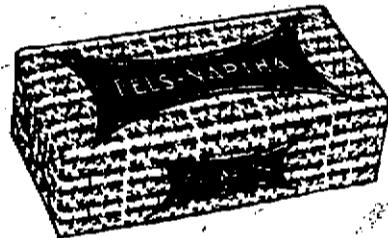

I will clean linoleums bright; make paints look like new; quickly take the film off porcelain tubs and sinks.

I will also clean your dishes free of grease—make them white and sweet.

I'll work for you for a few pennies.

Apply for me at your grocer's.

Signed—

W. A. HUTCHINS SELLS HOME TO W. E. TRIPP FOR $15,000

One of the most important real estate deals closed in the city for some time was formally consummated last night when Wells A. Hutchins sold his handsome brick residence at 1133 Second street, to W. E. Tripp.

The consideration was $15,000 and possession will be given October 1. Mr. Tripp for years was engaged in the lumber and mercantile business in South Webster. Just recently he purchased William Frazee's general store in Sciotoville and is looking after this splendid business. Mr. Tripp and Mr. Frazee are the new owners of the Jackson City Grocery on Gallia street.

Mr. Hutchins built his present home in 1902. It contains eight rooms and is one of the prettiest in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Tripp and daughter soon will move to Portsmouth from South Webster, October 1.

Elks Initiate Class

The Portsmouth Lodge of B. P. O. Elks 154, at a well attended meeting Wednesday night initiated the following candidates: J. W. Kinney, A. J. Monrad, Oscar Mitchell, Selma Johnson, C. R. Hancock and E. R. Schump.

These candidates were elected to membership: G. I. Hartlage, C. W. G. Hannah, C. R. Kennard and J. P. Fanc. Another large batch of applications were turned in by Secretary Otto B. Walter.

All Thin People Here Should Take Systoxem

It contains body-building, flesh-making and vigor-producing substance now known to be lacking and often wholly lost in many modern foods. It is guaranteed to increase the weight and strength of thin, delicate run-down men and women in two weeks time in many instances. It is dispensed in this city by Geo. W. Friend, Wurster Bros. and other good drug stores, without a doctor's prescription. It being not a secret preparation. Simply take two regular 5-grain Systoxem tablets with a glass of water after meals for a while, then watch that faint, weak, dizzy feeling disappear, strength return and weight increase. Let the scales and some simple way of testing your strength and endurance tell you when to stop this new popular treatment.

OVERSEAS OFFER TO BE WITHDRAWN

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Offer of service in Europe to recruits obtained under volunteer enlistment will be withdrawn under orders prepared by the War Department. The policy of sending regular officers overseas to relieve those in the American expeditionary forces also will be abandoned.

Secretary Baker said today he had not been advised from Paris as to the size of the American army which is to be maintained for the time being in Germany. The fact that the fourth and fifth divisions of regulars were definitely slated for return in June, until the crisis of last week, caused the cancellation of these plans. It cited here as evidence that the American forces will not be larger than three divisions of about 120,000 men.

It is estimated that the first, second and third divisions would require around 40,000 replacements to take the place of men in those organizations who are eligible for discharge. Voluntary enlistments totaling more than 70,000 men already have been reported, thus forcing the department to curtail its offer of European service to volunteers.

GERMAN FINED FOR REFUSING TO SALUTE YANK

CODLENZ, Tuesday, June 24.—(By the Associated Press)—Captain Bachbauer, assigned by the German army to duty in Codlenz, was fined 1,000 marks today for refusing to salute an American lieutenant. The captain contended the war was over, and that, any way, the regulations did not call for his saluting an officer of lower rank. This is the first instance of an action of this kind since a definite truce was taken in the peace situation.

American officers say that after the treaty of peace is signed the regulations issued last December compelling German officers to salute will probably not be enforced. Civilians generally have seemed relieved as a result of the action of the German national assembly at Weimar in reference to peace. Several individual instances have been reported here, however, in which civilians in the streets have assumed a haughty attitude toward the soldiers without serious trouble.

The Americans do not expect any trouble between civilians and soldiers, but extra precautions have been taken by the military police at Treves, Coblenz and other towns to prevent trouble.

With a view to avoiding clashes, no night leaves will be allowed in any of the towns within the occupied area. The officers desiring to leave their men in the barracks at night, when most of the fights between Germans and Americans have occurred.

AID BORDERED NEAR MAGICAL NURSE THINKS

Mrs. Rickey Pays Trutona Tribute—21 Years' Experience Lends Weight To Testimony

Paducah, Ky., June 27.—Mrs. S. A. Rickey, 60 years old, 411 South Sixth street, has been a resident of Paducah for the past 27 years. Twenty-one years experience as a practical nurse have given to Mrs. Rickey a thorough knowledge of many different medicines, a fact which will lend inestimable force to her endorsement of Trutona, the perfect tonic.

"Trutona has worked like magic in my case," is the tribute paid the perfect tonic by Mrs. Rickey. "I had kidney trouble for several years," she said. "This caused pains in my back so severe at times that I could hardly get around. My stomach was in bad condition, too. After eating I'd feel bloated and would be annoyed by a shortness of breath. Because of my weakened kidneys I would have to get up seven or eight times during the night."

"The relief I've gained from Trutona has been remarkable. I never have to get up in the night now on account of my kidneys. The pains in my back have disappeared. And my stomach—well, it's sufficient to say that I enjoy my meals as never before. The beauty of it is that everything I eat agrees with me. I can recommend Trutona as the medicine that gives relief and I hope others suffering as I did will try it."

FOOD AGREES WITH HER NOW, SHE SAYS

Owensboro, Ky., June 27.—"I eat like a pig and everything agrees with me, since taking Trutona," Mrs. J. L. Loney, 620 Triplet street, said recently. "Indigestion has bothered me for the past 24 years. Cramps in my stomach were often severe—I'd break out in a sweat and would have to vomit before relief came."

"Trutona has benefited me in so many ways. I can eat anything I want now and it doesn't make me constipated. The horrible cramps have ceased to bother me also. My appetite is fine."

Wurster Bros. To Give Away Three Dozen Bottle of Trutona Saturday Morning

DETAILS SUBMITTED

Wurster Bros., Portsmouth's leading druggists, invite the public of this city to call at their store Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock, where 72 bottles of Trutona, the perfect tonic that has recently won such phenomenal success in other cities will be given away.

Seventy-two men and women of Portsmouth will positively be present with a one-dollar bottle of Trutona. After the bottles have been distributed Trutona will be placed on sale under the supervision of an expert from the Trutona laboratories, who will explain the celebrated medicine and offer suggestions as to how to use it in order to obtain the best results.

The distribution of free Trutona will be governed by the following rules:

(1) Only one bottle to the person.

(2) Requests of minors will not be considered.

(3) Applicants for the free medicine must explain their condition. The Trutona will be given them provided, in the opinion of the expert, the medicine fits their case.

(4) Distribution begins promptly at 9:30 a. m. and lasts until 72 bottles of Trutona have been given away.

Trutona is an extraordinary tonic and a system purifier that has no superior. It is especially recommended for catarrhal affections of the stomach, liver and kidneys. Its use as a tonic following pneumonia, influenza, hard colds and the like is most beneficial as hundreds have testified.

Trutona is Nature's chief ally.

HENDERSON JUDGE FIRMLY CONVINCED

Henderson, Ky., June 27.—Judge J. L. Ferrell, 1612 Powell street, is one of Henderson's best known residents.

He says of Trutona: "I had a catarrhal affection of the head, nose and throat. My nose was always stopped up and I was constantly annoyed by the dripping of mucus into my mouth. My appetite was very poor."

"Trutona has given me great relief and has proven its merits in my case. My nose isn't stopped up now and my head has cleared up. I've noticed an improvement in my appetite, too."

Eyeglasses

The suggestion of the use of lenses for the cure of eye defects was made by Roger Bacon, the great scientist of the thirteenth century. The making of the spectacles was carried out by Italians. Physicians of those days, however, did not know the true theory upon which they were based.

"Cobbler's Dorem"

While in most countries thirteen is always spoken of as "the baker's dozen," in Italy it is called "the cobbler's dozen." There is a tradition in Italy that formerly there was a law compelling cobblers to put twelve nails round the edge of a boot heel, and that when nails were cheap, a thirteenth nail was driven in the center for luck.

Plenty of Choice

It is quite true that there are 1,032 different kinds of faiths in the world—and there are about 3,468,575 different kinds of sheer cussedness!

Summering in the Pacific Northwest

The Northwest! What a Land of Adventure! Its trails—on land and sea—blazed by Lewis and Clark, by Astor, by Bering, by Vancouver.

A land of glaciers and rose festivals—of blue lakes in the bowls of ancient craters—of snow-capped peaks—of sheltered seas—of mighty rivers and the lure of golden sands. A land, too, of thriving cities and modern motor highways.

A vast, cool summer playground where one may enjoy outdoor life in the mountains and by the sea, and where one may visit great National Parks.

Go this summer. En route see some of the other National Parks of the Far West, returning (if desired) through California.

Plan to Build Your Own Home NOW!

There isn't a better investment to be made than in Portsmouth real estate today.

The old town is going forward faster than 2500 people a year normally, and it will go faster than that when the big plants begin to hum merrily, which they doubtless will within a very short time.

Houses enough for these people do not exist. Rents will not remain at the present level, for they always follow the law of supply and demand.

Will You Profit or Lose?

When you own your own home you profit by every increase in population. When you pay rent you are quite likely to pay for the growth of the city.

You can own a home—your very own—in twelve years by paying what you now pay for rent.

Building materials will not come down in price until wages drop. And in some instances labor is fully 70 per cent. of every house built.

If you, as a laboring man expect wages to drop—wait!

You Cannot Build Cheaper

If, however, you have studied the law of supply and demand, if you have studied what has come to pass after every great war, you know wages are up to stay. Then you know you cannot build cheaper in five years than you can today.

Start your home this year. You will be just a year ahead—with all your savings invested in comfort, stability and profit.

When you are paying $30 per month rent, you can pay $40 a month for a home of your own and come out ahead.

Think It Over

Facts are stubborn things. They prove it to your financial advantage as well as to the comfort and welfare of the wife and kiddies to own your own home.

And, my, what independence it gives one to own his own home. If you own a lot, build—if you don't own a lot, buy one and build—it will be the best thing you ever did not only for yourself and family but the Peerless City as well.

Jumps Into Ohio River To Escape Arrest; Drowns

Regular circumstances attended the drowning of Addis McGarvey, aged twenty-three years, which occurred in the Ohio river near the Ashland Ferry landing at six o'clock last night.

According to the Ashland police McGarvey and another man, who is his brother, were fighting on the river bank. A policeman approached and both jumped into the river, apparently with the idea of swimming to the Ohio side. Gilbert McGarvey was rescued but his brother was drowned.

His body was recovered two hours and a half later.

Following the drowning the police questioned the rescued brother. Apparently they obtained but slight information. McGarvey left suddenly, boarding the ferryboat with the explanation that he must go to Ironton to take the news to his parents.

The version of the affair received in Ironton was that the two men were on their way home from Ashland where they had been in some difficulty during the afternoon. They thought they might be arrested and when they saw an officer approaching they jumped into the river from the ferryboat. The Ironton story is that Addis McGarvey was a good swimmer but that Gilbert, his brother, could not swim at all, though he jumped in the river with him. While rescuers were busy with the man who could not swim, the more expert brother was lost.

Addis McGarvey, the drowned youth had had recently returned from service overseas, where he was with the ninety-first division.

RUNS AUTOMOBILE ON SIDEWALK; TO AVOID HITTING LITTLE GIRL

Doris, six year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Gromminger of 2410 Gallia street, was painfully lacerated Wednesday evening at 5:45 o'clock when she ran into A. J. McFarland's automobile while he was on his way home from the Whitaker-Glennier plant.

Mr. McFarland saw the child run toward his machine and he ran it upon the sidewalk in an effort to keep from hitting her. The lot who had failed to heed the warning of her uncle, Leonard Gromminger, not to cross the street until the machine passed, ran into the left rear fender of the McFarland car. She was knocked down, but escaped with slight bruises and scratches. She had just purchased some ice cream and had started home when the accident occurred.

THE QUALITIES WE ALL LOVE

THE funeral services of the late Ignatius Reitz were held at St. Mary's church Wednesday morning and his pastor took occasion of them to pay a deserved tribute to a good man, stressing his uprightness as a citizen, his fidelity as a husband, his wisdom as a father and his charity and liberality as a church member. These admirable qualities he did possess, but Ignatius Reitz was held fondly by all who knew him because he was not, neither did he trouble. He was the embodiment of cheerfulness and good will. Not misly, not even effusively, but sweetly and kindly that the meeting and speaking to him was the calm and graciousness of his life descending on you as the dew falls upon the parching grass.

A TIMELY PROTEST OF MERIT

THE Times most heartily concurs in the protest of those merchants, who express their indignation that Gallia street should be squatted to by an unkempt and dirty lot of paupers and fortune tellers. Only it would go further, holding there should be no abiding place for the ignorant impostors on Gallia or any other street or place in the city.

Americans least of their intelligence and freedom from superstition, yet ignorance and superstition can go on further than to believe that persons, no matter how cunning and natural shrewdness they possess can read the future, can unfold the future. Why, it is blazingly apparent to common sense that if anyone could do that she wouldn't be going unkempt and unclean, living in the foulest surroundings, selling her gift for fifty cents or a dime, but she would be riding in a limousine, abiding in a mansion and charging her clients hundreds and thousands of dollars. A fortune teller is the meanest of impostors and cheats, preying in the smallest and most miserable way upon the ignorance and credulity of others. Time was when they were not permitted to ply their nefarious trade in Portsmouth. Why that time and practice isn't continued into the now is one of those things that surpasses understanding.

BRUTALITY AS AGAINST FATALITY

PROMOTERS of the fight between Willard and Dempsey, to take place at Toledo, on July 4th, claim to have sold six hundred thousand dollars' worth of seats already and expect the total receipts to go to a million.

It seems incredible that "the manly art," so called, has such a hold upon the population that an exhibition of it, even though by champions in its exhibition, should draw from them such a stupendous sum. Prize-fighting is called brutal, and, in a sense, it is, but one can not see the logic or morality and sympathy in that violent opposition it meets with, while another sport really far more brutal, since it leads to the death, pursues it deathly struggle without protest. Of course, reference is made to automobile racing. Its hazards are known. At Indianapolis, where this sport reaches its apex, the annual Decoration Day races resulted in three deaths and every year there is a shocking accident, but we fail to see press and pulpit appealing that the sport be put an end to. May be the difference in which the two alleged sports is regarded is in their effect upon the emotions and the mind, which the common adjective does not draw in difference. In prize fighting the contestants batter and bruise each other and therefore their game is disgusting to sensitive natures.

Automobile racing is thrilling. Outwardly it presents no suggestion of blood and cruelty. Only when an accident occurs in the twinkling of an eye, is their any feeling of repulsion. However, no matter of mere death for a moment brings pause to the race. It is run on to the end and then the tens of thousands of spectators cheer the victor, oblivious that outside somewhere, covered with blankets, are dull, unseeing eyes and ears that hear not, that a few minutes before were expecting to kindle and throb with the sound of those same shouts.

Winnipeg's strike, which received international attention, has been declared off unconditionally after a duration of six weeks on the tick of the clock. In it the strikers made a mistake all too common in any body, no matter of what sort. They listened to the fellows who gabbled most instead of the members who thought most.

Germany acts like one who thinks he has got a good deal more coming to him. To the aggravation and also to his alarm, according to the unreliable peace conference correspondents, of the peace council she is holding back to the last minute to sign the terms. She'll do a lot better and look a whole lot better also, if she would put her finger on the dotted line, shut her eyes and sign instantly.

The exterminators of Bolshevism have crept up within another foot of Petrograd, or is it another twelve miles?

Ah, yes, and also, of course, Senator Poindexter of Washington, was denouncing the Wilsonian policy towards Mexico, at a New York dinner, Tuesday. They all go to New York to "denounce," but there is a haunting suspicion that they do not also renounce when they get there. Else why would a Republican senator proclaim against a course that even the fiercest Roosevelt, to say nothing of the amiable Taft pursued? When it comes to Mexico you can't denounce anyone without at the same time denouncing the other two because all three are in the same boat.

A captain, who said all those connected with the army department were grafters and Wilson was the biggest grafter of them all, is being tried by court martial, at Chillicothe, for that offense, also being drunk, stealing government property and embezzling company funds. He talks like he was getting his cue from the senate majority and also acts like it, he trying to steal the president's good name while the senate is trying to steal away from him his high fame.

THE WISHING PLANE

The next day the children spent flying along the battlefield in that section of France. Captain Brave had something interesting to tell them about almost every part of the territory and of the battles that took place. Jennie was having the time of her life. The cozy quarters in the airplane, the chance to be with Jack and Jane and their friends and by over the country made her much different than the sad eyed child they had found at Verdun.

After the exciting times at Verdun and Rheims the riding about in the airplane proved too tame for Booh, and he looked about for something to do to create a little excitement for himself.

Riding in one of the leather seats near Captain Brave, who was guiding the plane, or sleeping in the little room in the tail of the plane, was too tame for him. He finally decided that it would be much more interesting if he found a more out of the way place to ride.

So when no one was looking he climbed out on one of the wings of the plane. He didn't know yet just what was in his mind, but I think he figured on getting away out on the end and sitting down all by himself. No one discovered what he was up to until Captain Brave happened to glance around and saw the little white fuzzy dog at the end of the wing.

The plane had been riding steadily while Booh was making his trip, but now sudden gusts of wind were causing the big ship to lunge about. Even as Captain Brave looked at Booh, one of these lunges almost threw Booh off the plane. When the Captain thought what would happen to Booh if he should slip or be knocked off by the wind, he decided that it was high time to bring Booh back where he belonged. He called Laddie to steer the plane and pointed out the trouble. Just at this time the children came up the staircase from the room in the lower part of the plane, and they too saw where Booh was, and cried out in fear. When Laddie heard he climbed into the pilot seat to guide the plane. Captain Brave worked his way out to the end of the wing. Laddie realized that Captain Brave would be killed if a sudden turn or drop of the plane caused him to lose his grip on the wires and supports, so he held the plane steady. It seemed like hours to the children before Captain Brave finally reached Booh, but it really took him only a minute or two. Captain Brave didn't lose any time talking to Booh either. He just grabbed him by the nape of the neck, like a cat carries her kittens, and hugged him back into the body of the airplane. He gave Booh a good spanking, too, and sent him down into the room below for an hour or two to teach him to be more careful.

Captain Brave stood out more than ever in the children's eyes when they realized that he had risked his life to save their pet.

Just before sundown the plane landed in a little village where the folks could get supper, and gasoline and supplies for the plane. Captain Brave also arranged with a picture man in the village to develop the films taken at Uncle George's grave and make prints of them to be sent home to the children's parents. That night was spent in the village while waiting for the pictures. The next morning the pictures and a big letter from each of the children and a note from Laddie and Captain Brave were sent home to Moke-Bellevue Town. Of course the children told mother all about Booh and how they hoped to find her real mother and father. Copyright, 1919.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

O. H. MENTRE.

NEW YORK, June 26—A day around the New York piers these days gives a colorful picture of families trickling back to Sunny It, Spain and other foreign countries. Down by the old Coenties Slip the other day I saw a polyglot group, with all their earthly possessions at their side, getting ready to sail for their native land.

Despite the difficulties and delays in obtaining passports, the sailings from the Port of New York alone average about 1000 weekly. All of them say they are returning because of prohibition. In a speech at the Waldorf the other day, a prominent banker said:

"With the going of these foreign-tongue-speaking individuals American banking and business institutions will suffer a big loss. It means the withdrawal of bank and savings accounts estimated as high as six billion dollars."

Most of the workers, now leaving, are from Pennsylvania. Their chief objection to prohibition is that they will not be able to get beer. They may be seen around the docks sitting on the curb with a loaf of bread in one hand and a bucket of beer at their side—taking the big meal of the day at noon.

Many of these foreigners are men of genius, blown by the winds of chance. They look upon America and its people kindly. Many of them are painters of no mean ability, and yet they have dug ditches and lived in shanties that they might return to their native country and pursue art without starving.

The sheep photographer reaps a harvest around the piers. To have a cheap picture taken is the final ray of hope before the boat pulls out for home. The women are young in years, but old and drawn in looks. They wear shawls and old wrappers, and they look out upon the new world dumbly—for all the world like cattle.

The first knowledge of Bobby Ashe came when an infant's cry was heard in an ashcan in New York. He reposed on cushions, and being lifted out and given attention he was none the worse. Bobby found refuge in a hospital, was named after the doctor who found him, and a childless couple came and arranged a legal adoption and Bobby entered into parent's life. A special nurse was his devoted slave. From a thin, anemic child he bloomed into a rosy-cheeked cherub. He had a motor car for company, and this summer he was to have a cottage far out on a rock by the sea. His foster parents were Christian Scientists. A statue for him an institution to sustain

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GOV. FRANK O. LOWDEN

The candidacy of Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, for the Republican nomination for president was launched recently at the Hamilton club, Chicago. The "Hamilton Club Lowden League" was formed and the following resolutions were passed:

"As members of the Hamilton club Chicago we reaffirm our faith in the soundness of the system of government wrought by the fathers of America and set forth in the federal constitution.

"We believe that these principles which we regard as so necessary today to the welfare and happiness of the American people.

"It is our belief that Frank O. Lowden can and will unite us in this time of national emergency upon those fundamentals which make us all Republicans.

"His patriotic record as governor of Illinois appeals to all Americans, regardless of party, and has been one of conspicuous achievement. It has been constructive, business-like, and progressive, and has shown him to be possessed of administrative and executive ability of the highest order.

"The foremost need of the country is the application of sound, well-considered, constructive business methods in the national government as it enters upon the period of reconstruction. Governor Lowden has fully demonstrated his fitness to meet these requirements not alone as an executive and legislator, but as a business man and farmer. No man more fully understands American life, ideals and needs than this farmer boy of Minnesota who worked his way through school and college in Iowa and became the chief executive of Illinois.

"The Republican national convention should choose as its standard-bearer a candidate who can command the support of all factions of the party. Governor Lowden can do this. His record of progressive achievements as chief executive of Illinois has endeared him to the forward-looking people of the nation. He enjoyed the lifelong love and confidence of Theodore Roosevelt and possesses the esteem of Republican leaders throughout the nation.

"We therefore form ourselves into the Hamilton Club Lowden League for the purpose of urging Governor Lowden to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for president of the United States."

Governor Lowden was born at Sunrise City, Minn., January 26, 1861. He was educated at the Iowa State University and at the Union College of Law, Chicago, from which he graduated in 1887. He has been prominent in Illinois politics for twenty years, and spent five years in the lower house of congress before his election as governor of Illinois.

Down The Line

(By Harold A. Fitzgerald)

I fell in love with Reggy, dear. A quartermaster man, you know. But then I met Lieutenant Ted. And so I let poor Reggy go.

The motor transport's simply great. They told me Ted worked on the field.

But, pshaw, I met a Major Jones. And so poor Teddy had to yield.

Major Jones! My heart leaps yet. That doctor made them keep so clean.

But Jim looked up—the infantry—A fighting man—the first I'd seen.

Well, Captain Jim quite won my heart. They said he showed them how to drill.

An aviator then appeared—Lieutenant White! My heart stood still.

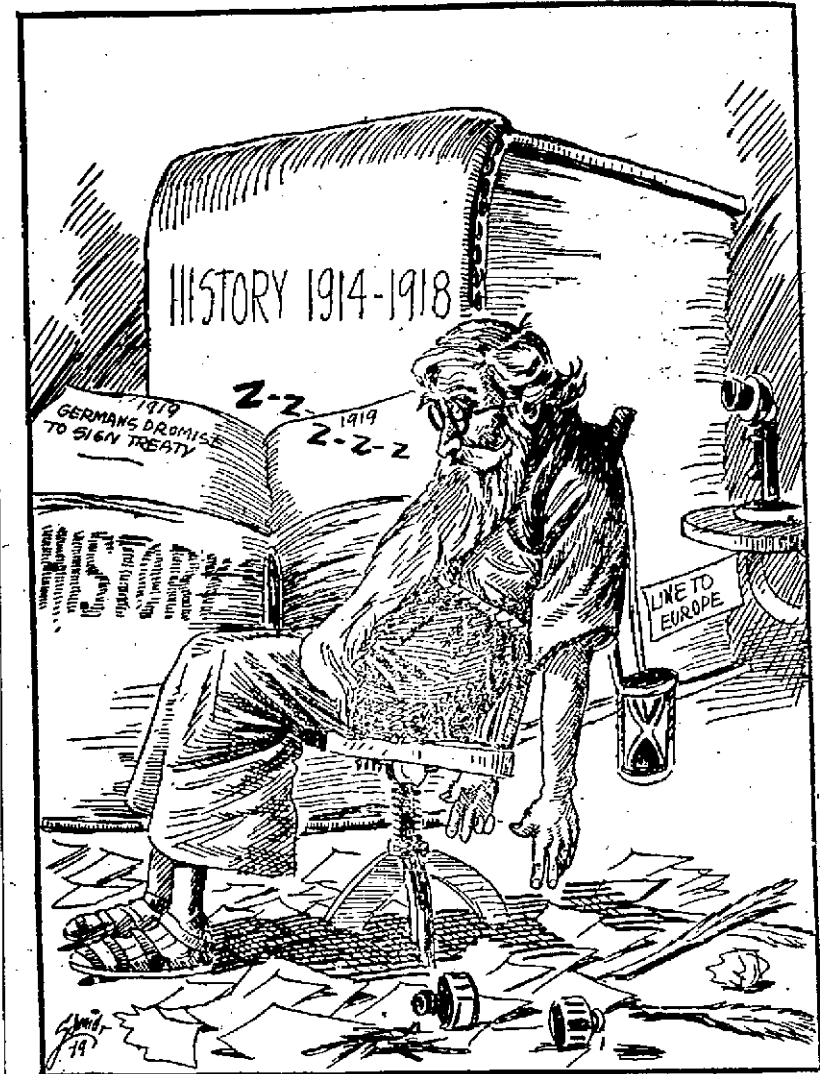

I almost married Billy White. He did those loops and spins and twists.

But then I met just Private Joe. And soon forgot that White exists.

Just plain old Private Joe, I know. Outranked by all those fellows of mine.

But gee I love him, he's the best. With wounds and service stripes divine!

A friend of mine told me a good story the other day concerning Louis Wain, says a contributor to Pearson's Weekly. It appears that not long ago, at a gathering of artists, a certain futurist painter approached Wain and said: "Why do you always draw cats, cats, nothing but cats?" "It is true that I draw cats," returned Mr. Wain, "taking the futurist man with his eye, but at least I do not call them 'landscapes.'"

FORMER CROWN PRINCE ESCAPES FROM HOLLAND INTO GERMANY

Scent Plot To Embarrass The Entente

PARIS, June 26—Frederick William Hohenzollern, the former German Crown Prince, has escaped from Holland and made his way into Germany.

News of the escape of the ex-crown prince caused a considerable stir in peace conference circles. While it is not felt that he is a figure around which the reactionaries and monarchists would gather enthusiastically, nevertheless, his act is regarded as an event of considerable significance, in view of other German recalcitrancy.

Hints have come from Germany within the last few days that the military caste there would not be averse to bringing about a military situation within the former empire that would embarrass the allies in putting the peace treaty into effect, and it seems not improbable that the move made by the ex-crown prince is connected with some such plan.

The former crown prince made his way into Holland shortly after the signing of the armistice last November and was interned there by the Dutch government, taking up his residence on the island of Wieringen, in the Zuider Zee.

WASHINGTON, June 26—Confidential reports that the former German crown prince also probably the former emperor would attempt to return to Germany after the signing of the peace treaty were received recently by government officials here. This became known today after an Associated Press dispatch telling of the escape of the crown prince had been received.

RADICALS START RIOT IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, June 26—Rioting broke out here last night at a meeting called by radical dock and suit workers for the purpose of organizing a union along lines of the Russian Soviet and in opposition to the Dock and Suit Makers' Union, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. About 800 persons, many of whom were members of the present union, were present when the trouble began. Two men in the rear of the hall engaged in a heated argument. A policeman intervened, but before he could restore order, two other men came to blows. A loud scene of great confusion, the fighting spread to all parts of the hall and efforts of the police and of F. S. Clumley, business manager of "The Hotel Workers," a radical publication, failed to check disorders. Disturbance spread to the street in front of the hall and continued until a large number of policemen arrived and dispersed the crowd.

SEPARATE ENFORCEMENT MEASURES

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26—With indications that a separate bill for enforcement of war time prohibition would be reported out before adjournment, leaving enforcement of constitutional prohibition for a measure to be framed later, the House Judiciary committee today continued consideration of methods for carrying into effect anti-liquor legislation. Decision to prepare separate bills, it was said, was reached informally last night by leaders, although all previous efforts to that end had been defeated. Members expressed belief that as a result of this decision enactment of legislation to enforce war time prohibition would be sure before July 1, the date the nation will "go dry," unless President Wilson acts to suspend the law. The measure to enforce constitutional prohibition is expected to be much more stringent than that to enforce war time prohibition.

OVERSEAS OFFER TO BE WITHDRAWN

WASHINGTON, June 26—Offer of service in Europe to recruits obtained under volunteer enlistment will be withdrawn under orders prepared by the War Department. The policy of sending regular officers overseas to relieve those in the American expeditionary forces also will be abandoned.

Secretary Baker said today he had not been advised from Paris as to the size of the American army which is to be maintained for the time being in Germany. The fact that the fourth and fifth divisions of regulars were definitely slated for return in June, until the crisis of last week, caused the cancellation of these plans. It is clear here as evidence that the American forces will not be larger than three divisions or about 120,000 men. It is estimated that the first, second and third divisions would require around 40,000 replacements to take the place of men in these organizations who are eligible for discharge. Voluntary enlistments totaling more than 70,000 men already have been reported, thus forcing the department to cancel its offer of European service to volunteers.

OPENING STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 26—A three-point drop in Baltimore and Ohio Common, attributed to the suspension of dividends in connection with the road's new bond issue, and an advance of 2 1/2 points in General Motors, were the chief features at the irregular opening of today's stock market. Gains

GERMAN FINED FOR REFUSING TO SALUTE YANK

COBLENZ, Tuesday, June 24—(By the Associated Press) Captain Bach, assigned by the German army to duty in Coblenz, was fined 1,000 marks today for refusing to salute an American lieutenant. The captain contended the war was over, and that, any way, the regulations did not call for his saluting an officer of lower rank. This is the first instance of an action of this kind since a definite turn was taken in the peace situation.

American officers say that after the treaty of peace is signed the regulation issued last December compelling German officers to salute will probably not be enforced. Civilians generally have seemed relieved as a result of the action of the German national assembly at Weimar in reference to peace. Several individual instances have been reported here, however, in which civilians in the streets have assumed a hostile attitude toward the soldiers without serious trouble. The Americans do not expect any trouble between civilians and soldiers, but extra precautions have been taken by the military police at Treves, Coblenz and other towns to prevent trouble.

With a view to avoiding clashes, no night leaves will be allowed in any of the towns within the occupied area. The officers desiring to have their men in the barracks at night, when most of the fights between Germans and Americans have occurred.

Extending from fractions to one point, gains made by U. S. Rubber, California Packing, United Cigars, American Cigar and Mexican Petroleum, these being the chief features at the irregular opening of today's stock market. Gains

ARMY BILL IS PASSED; NAVY BILL UP NEXT

WASHINGTON, June 26—With the army bill out of the way, the senate today began consideration of the annual naval appropriations bill, carrying $24,272,000 which will be $45,000,000 in excess of that carried in the house bill.

The navy bill was adopted late yesterday without a roll call with committee amendments included. It now goes to conference where numerous items will have to be agreed upon. Chief among these is the provision for an army during 1920 of four hundred thousand men as compared to $90,000,000 provided in the house bill. Other principal items in the senate bill also show big increases over appropriations voted in the house. These include a $20,000,000 increase for aviation. As passed by the Senate the principal items of the army bill are $215,000,000 for army pay; $22,500,000 for subsistence and transportation; $34,400,000 for aviation, an increase of about $30,000,000 over the House appropriation; $12,215,000 for the national guard; $15,000,000 for cadets and $45,000,000 for storage and shipping facilities. The Senate reduced from $12,000,000 to $2,000,000 the appropriation for purchases of the Dayton-Wright aviation field at Dayton, Ohio under an agreement by Senator Lorain, Republican, Wisconsin, which also stipulated that not more than $1,000,000 shall be spent for principal items in the senate bill. It also shows big increases over appropriations voted in the house. These include a $20,000,000 increase for aviation. As passed by the Senate the principal items of the army bill are $215,000,000 for army pay; $22,500,000 for subsistence and transportation; $34,400,000 for aviation, an increase of about $30,000,000 over the House appropriation; $12,215,000 for the national guard; $15,000,000 for cadets and $45,000,000 for storage and shipping facilities. # Willard And Dempsey Ready For Gong; Are In Fine Shape

Referee For Big Battle Will Be Named Friday

TOLEDO, O., June 26.—There will be a twenty-four hour delay in the announcement of the names of the officials for the heavy-weight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here, July 4.

The announcement of the officials scheduled to be made today will not be made until tomorrow, the delay was caused by the failure of Adams Knapp, secretary of the army, navy and civilian board of boxing, and W. A. Davis, a member of the executive committee, to catch their train from Toledo to New York late yesterday afternoon. They will not arrive in New York until this evening, and will hold a meeting of the executive committee of the board.

The nominations to be disclosed by Knapp and Davis will be formally ratified by Major A. J. Drexel Biddle, president of the boxing control board, and Promoter Richard, who then will be in charge of the selections. Richard said he would make the names public here as soon as he receives official word Friday.

Two judges and a referee will decide the contest. This was positively announced yesterday. From authoritative sources it was learned that Otto Seward, official referee of the Toledo boxing commission, would likely be one of the officials selected.

It was stated today that Willard had made a demand to have Richard named as one of the judges.

Dempsey and Willard today faced just one more week of training for their title contest. Willard said he intended to drop all work next Wednesday. Admirers of the champion believe that he is close to top form at the present and that three or four days will find him in perfect fighting condition.

Both Willard and the challenger had fairly spirited workouts yesterday. Dempsey all but knocked out Bill Tate, a giant negro sparring partner, upsetting him with a left hook.

Dempsey boxed six rounds, while Willard stepped the customary eight.

May Sue Louisville Club

LOUISVILLE, KY., June 26.—Sue against the Louisville American Association club has been threatened by William Clymer, former manager, to recover salary he claims is due him.

The National Board of Arbitration of Professional Baseball Leagues refused to allow the claim which is understood to be based on an interpretation of the "work or fight" order of 1918 under which Clymer asserts his contract with Louisville abrogated and payment of salary stopped.

Clymer, who is widely known in baseball circles, is now managing the Seattle team of the Pacific Coast League. Advice from there by judgment for $1,955.54 and interest will be sought. It is said the contention will be that the "work or fight" order did not effect his contract because it did not go into effect until September 1, 1918, whereas he was dropped from the payroll on July 21. He also says the "work or fight" order concerned only those of draft age, which excluded him.

Enters Track Meet

FANNY ARBOR, MICH., June 26.—Carl Johnson, intercollegiate high and broad jump champion for 1919, will represent Spokane in the Victory Jubilee track and field meet to be held in Tacoma July 1 and 2.

Johnson whose home is in Spokane will enter the four events in which he took first place in the Western intercollegiate conference in Chicago in June. They are the high and low hurdles and the high and broad jumps. He is entered in the 100 yard dash.

The Tacoma meet will be Johnson's only appearance in the northwest this summer. He will break training immediately after the meet and rest until fall training at the University of Michigan.

Rain Halts Industrial Game

The Weather Man asserted himself quite forcibly and prevented the scheduled game between the Excelsior and Drew teams at the Friday street yard Wednesday evening when huge gobs of rain interfered with the proceedings in the second inning while the Drews were at bat and in a few moments the lot was a sea of mud and water.

The contest was started under low-lying skies and when a huge black cloud blew into view from the west the fans started to leave the arena, but Umpire Yeager kept the athletes at work despite the threatening cloud and finished the first frame in which the Joe Barber outfit had scored a run after blanking the Drews in their half. Pitcher Mowery for the Excelsiors, was as wild as the noted team from Horne, and through his wildness the Drews tied the count in the second and had the bags clogged when the ball tossers to duck for cover.

Gelger started to pitch, but the Drews were sloughed rather freely in the out-inning, but a fast double play killed off their chances to score a flock of runs after getting a trio of safe drives.

Cubs Beat Redlegs

CINCINNATI, O., June 26.—Vaughn was very strong yesterday with men on bases and Chicago took the last game of the series, 3 to 1. Bing was hit hard in the seventh when four hits and a base on balls gave the Cubs two runs. Bressler then went into the box and stopped the scoring. The teams were to have played two games today, but the first was postponed on account of rain. The score:

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Chicago	35	3	12	27	11	0
Cincinnati	32	1	7	27	13	1

Score by innings:
Chicago.....001 000 200-3
Cincinnati.....000 100 000-1

Summary:
Two base hits—Gron, Paskert.

Three base hits—Deal.

FOR AND AGAINST LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Left to right: Senators Hitchcock, Watson and Knox.

Here are the newest snapshots of three prominent U. S. senators whose names have figured in the league of nations debate. Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska is the principal Democratic support of the league. Senator Knox of Pennsylvania has been leading the fight against the league covenant in its present form. Senator Watson of Indiana is supporting the views of Senators Knox and Lodge.

Colored Team Here Sunday, Mendels Booked For Fourth

Everything is in readiness for the game between the colored soldiers representing the 415th Battalion team of Camp Sherman and "Gabe's All Stars" during their stay in the big cantonment not one of them has ever been disciplined, showing they have conducted themselves in a most soldierly manner and have a high regard for the flag of their country, as well as their superior officers.

Manager Gableman has been complimented on many sides for booking this team, because it represents the best aggregation in the camp. He is desirous of giving the fans the highest possible attraction and believes in the 415th Battalion team he has booked a team that will play the game up to the hilt.

While the colored boys will provide plenty of amusement, Manager Gableman has made a ten strike in securing the "Mendels" of Columbus for games at Millbrook on July 4, 5 and 6. The Mendels is the strongest team in the Capital City and are managed by Joe Carr, formerly president of the Ohio State League. Mr. Carr writes Mr. Gableman in part as follows: "I have arranged to bring the Mendels to Portsmouth for games on July 4, 5 and 6. At present this team is leading in the Capital City league and will have the opportunity of making a return visit. The boys are among the best soldiers in camp, and during their stay in the big cantonment not one of them has ever been disciplined, showing they have conducted themselves in a most soldierly manner and have a high regard for the flag of their country, as well as their superior officers."

JUDGE DRAMATIZES WORK OF JUVENILE COURT FOR SCREEN

Judge Willis Brown.

In order to interest the public in his efforts to restore the youthful human delinquent to society by making him a good citizen, Judge Willis Brown of Salt Lake City has written a number of motion picture scenarios founded on his most interesting experiences during the many years he has been engaged in the moral reclamation of young people.

Judge Brown was the first judge of the Utah state juvenile court. His stories will be shown about the country in a very few months.

Spirits of Trees

The Malaysians and other Johore natives believe that each species of tree has a spirit or divinity that presides over its affairs. The spirit of the camellia tree is known by the name of "Pisan"—literally, "a woman." Her resting place is near the tree, and when at night a peculiar noise is heard in the woods resembling that of a cascade, the Pisan is believed to be staging and camphor will surely be found in that neighborhood.

Happiness and Interests

Personal happiness is almost synonymous with personal interests; the wider the range of the latter the higher is the degree of happiness.—Lillian Whitley.

Courtesy Always Pays

When you mingle courtesy with business principles you take out insurance on success. Ross Wilkins was only acting the part of a gentleman toward two foreigners whom he was showing through his shops in Baltimore. It later developed that they had been sent to America by the czar to select a man to introduce the manufacture of locomotives into Russia. While there were many larger and better equipped shops than his he was the man chosen and within a few years his annual income had reached the $100,000 mark. Good manners have a way of getting where brusqueness and force have difficulty. The grace and charm of Josephine did more to make France safe than the sword of Napoleon. The courtesy of well-bred manners carries men to fortune and power not possible under any other circumstances.

Leaders Pulled Down

The past two days have been tough ones for the first division teams in the National. The Reds have dropped two out of three to the Cubs, the Cardinals beat the Pirates two in a row and Brooklyn rose up and waited the Giants twice in the same place. The National League race is one of the prettiest in the history of the league.

THREE BIG FIGHTS

NEW YORK, June 26.—K. O. Long, the promising welterweight of Allentown, Penn., is matched for three more fights. On June 30 he meets Jack Malone, of St. Paul, for 10 rounds, at Milwaukee; July 2, Bryan Downey, of Columbus, for 15 rounds, at a ball park at Columbus, Ohio, and on the afternoon of July 4 he will hook up with Len Rowlands, the Milwaukee fighter, for six rounds at an indoor boxing show of the National A. C. of Philadelphia.

Baseball Is Getting Popular In Mexico

DALLAS, TEXAS, June 26.—Baseball is bidding for favor in parts of Mexico and may supplant bull fighting and other distinctly native pastimes, according to a Dallas sporting goods concern, which has just made a large shipment of baseball equipment to Monterrey, Northern Mexico. This concern recently sent a salesman through the northern part of Mexico and he reported that baseball was rapidly gaining in favor and predicted it soon would become a national pastime in that country.

Eastern "Mad-Stones"

In eastern countries rabies is treated by what are indifferently called "mad-stones," or "madstones," and which are believed to be a specific for all forms of poisonous bites or wounds. "Madstones" is a porous, stony accretion found in the stalks of bamboo. It was used in Persia so long ago as the tenth century, and is carefully described by the French traveler Tavernier, who visited India in the seventeenth century.

Oliphant At Atlanta

COLUMBUS, GA., June 26.—Lieut. Elmer Q. Oliphant, star football and baseball player of West Point, has joined the Atlanta club of the Southern association as a pitcher. Oliphant, who is stationed at Camp Benning in on a month's leave, and expects to play most of this time with Atlanta.

Reuther Injured

CINCINNATI, O., June 26.—so painful that attending physicians stated that it would be several days before he will be able to get into a game of ball. Reuther was scheduled here yesterday and the injury proved to pitch one of the games today.

Prehistoric Weapons

A French writer not long ago visited an ancient village in the Marne department, far from railways and undisturbed by the great war. In this village he found that the cure had a wonderful collection of prehistoric tools and weapons. "Some big battle probably took place here between two important tribes," said the collector. "Every turn of the glow brings up flint weapons." The collection, 10,000 specimens in all, included even a razor made of flint. The cure's cottage was heaped to the ceilings with these curios, which he had devoted the leisure of a lifetime to collecting.—Outlook.

Muscle and Appetite

Many great musical composers had exceptionally large appetites. When Handel dined alone at a restaurant he ordered a meal for three. Haydn, yet more voracious, delighted in dining alone, and was known to consume a meal that would have satisfied five ordinary appetites.

CAN DEMPSEY STAND PUNCHES WILLARD WILL HAND HIM?

By N. E. BROWN.

Little has been said about Jack Dempsey's ability to take punishment, but the fact remains that his chances of coping the title from Jess Willard or making a good showing against him may hang on his power to withstand terrific jolts while handing out some of his own.

Dempsey has a terrific wallop in either hand. He is a clever boxer and as fast as they make the big boys. All fans know these things about him. But he has had little chance to show his ability to assimilate punishment—for the simple reason that he has dumped over his opponents before they had much chance to hammer him. Many of these laid packed pile-driver wallops and could have helped settle the problem had not Dempsey been too clever for them.

Socialist Speaker Arrested By Police When Crowd Threatens

W. A. HUTCHINS SELLS HOME TO W. E. TRIPP FOR $15,000

One of the most important real estate deals closed in the city for some time was formally consummated last night when Wells A. Hutchins sold his handsome brick residence at 1138 Second street, to W. E. Tripp.

The consideration was $15,000 and the sale will be given October 1. Mr. Tripp for years was engaged in the coal and mercantile business in South Webster. Just recently he purchased William Pease's general store in Steubenville and is looking after this business. Mr. Tripp and Mr. Pease are the new owners of the Jan. 21 State Grocery on Gallia street. Mr. Hutchins said this morning, "Yes, I expect to build another home in the city, but I don't know where at this time."

Val Lee Is In New York

STATE SIGNS BONDS WHICH WILL ENABLE NORTH DAKOTA TO FINANCE INDUSTRIES

Left to right, Governor Lynn J. Frazier, State Treasurer Obert Olson, and Oliver Morris, secretary of the North Dakota Industrial Commission, signing the $17,000,000 worth of state bonds.

North Dakota's governor, Lynn J. Frazier, and the state treasurer, Obert Olson, are seen here in the act of signing the first of the $17,000,000 worth of state bonds authorized by the North Dakota legislature recently for state engagement in industries. The North Dakota Bank, the first state bank of its kind in the country will be incorporated to finance the several industries proposed. The legality of the bonds, however, has been attacked both in the state and the federal courts.

Visited Ironton. J. M. Jefferson of the Whitaker-Glessner Company, of Portsmouth, was an Ironton visitor Tuesday. He came here for the purpose of measuring the Cloran building for steel ceilings, he being connected with the corrugating department of the Whitaker-Glessner plant.—Ironton Register.

Need for Both Law and Sword. In all government there must of necessity be both the law and the sword; laws without arms would give us no liberty but licentiousness, and arms without laws would produce not subjection but slavery.—Colton.

"Cobbler's Dozen." While in most countries thirteen is always spoken of as "the baker's dozen," in Italy it is called "the cobbler's dozen." There is a tradition in Italy that formerly there was a law compelling cobblers to put twelve nails round the edge of a boot heel, and that when nails were cheap, a thirteenth nail was driven in the center for luck.

Enlivening scenes marked a Socialist meeting on Gallia square last night and the remarks of the speaker, Charles Baker, said to be the former mayor of Hamilton, came near inciting a riot, which was nipped in the bud by the prompt action of the police when Baker was placed under arrest and taken to police headquarters and the crowd dispersed.

The police were camping on the trail of Baker, expecting some trouble, after learning that he was reported to have declared in a speech at New Boston recently that he was a Bolshevik all over, and "Sergeant Hockett, who was stationed at the meeting, promptly warned Baker, it is alleged, when he made certain scintillating remarks. The speaker, it is said, persisted in his abuse of former President Theodore Roosevelt and he was placed under arrest and taken to police headquarters. He was released in a few minutes with a warning not to attempt to resume the meeting, but despite the warning Baker went straight back to the square and started on a second tirade. The crowd by this time had become wrought up and there were frequent demands made to the police to curb the speaker, who then defied the officers to interfere.

Capt. Poser Flowers, to avoid what appeared might develop into serious trouble, took Baker into custody and removed him from the automobile in which he was speaking. The prisoner was escorted to the mayor's office and was released on a $500 bond for his appearance in police court this morning on a charge of violating Section 218 of the city ordinances by failing to comply with the orders of the police.

Baker pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Mayor Kups this morning, and at the request of the defendant to give him an opportunity of securing an attorney, the court continued his case until next Monday evening. The accused was released on $200 bond.

The mayor in granting the continuance, said that it was done with the understanding that Baker will make no further effort to speak on street corners here. The mayor gave Baker to understand in no unmistakable language that the city ordinances will be properly enforced and that he did not propose to stand for any foolishness. The mayor added, "If it's traffic law you want, you can get it here right off the bat."

Tony Palumbo, a tailor, employed in a local tailor shop, who it is said, jumped into the automobile and made a demonstration after Baker's arrest, was in court charged with disorderly conduct. He pleaded not guilty and his case, too, was continued until Monday evening, and he was released on $100 bond.

At the same time the Socialist speakers invaded Portsmouth. Wednesday night one of their number also attempted to speak in New Boston. He only attempted to speak, as Mayor Lawrence Fitch soon put a stop to any such move and ordered the man not to try another like speech while he was mayor of the village.

H. J. A. Holman, of Dayton, was the name given by the speaker, who appeared to be about 75 years of age. He indicated a box at Center and Gallia streets, in the heart of the village. Mayor Fitch was soon on the scene and had one of his officers escort the man from the box to the mayor's office, where the mayor gave him a lecture. Mayor Fitch told Holman that he could not deliver a lecture in New Boston while he was mayor, and that it was the same as Bolshevism to him.

Former Socialist Mayor J. S. Davis of the village then appeared at the mayor's office and offered his picture show to the speaker, according to Mayor Fitch, who says that he told Davis that he would close the picture house if the man attempted to speak there. Mayor Fitch made strong his position in the matter by saying that such a speech would not be allowed on the inside or outside while he held the guiding reins of New Boston. The man left the mayor's office saying that he would go to Portsmouth to make a speech. Mayor Fitch telephoned the local police to be on the lookout for the man here.

Truby Sells Property

IRONTON, June 26.—A deal has been closed whereby J. F. McConnell, proprietor of the McConnell Fruit company, secured from John Truby the two-story brick business block on Center street, between Third and Fourth, occupied by W. W. Rowland, the music dealer.

Cross Is Still Alive

There was but little change Wednesday in the condition of Dudley T. Cross, young man of Steubenville, who attracted wide-spread attention here by swallowing two electric tablets. He is getting along as well as could be expected considering the amount of poison taken into his system. According to Dr. J. W. Hutchen the attending physician, he will live twenty-three days before all danger is past.

CARS DITCHED AS PROTEST ON HIGHER FARES

TOLEDO, O., June 26.—More than 2000 employees of the Toledo Ship Building Company refusing to submit to an increase in street car fares last night, ditched two cars and in the violence that followed, windows in two others were smashed with bricks. One car caught fire.

The Toledo Railway and Light Company, yesterday instituted a new fare rate, an increase of one cent over the old rate. The trouble at the shipyards started when the cars commenced to fill. Crews of the first car were forced off and one of the passengers ran the car to the Hickling Valley docks where it was turned over.

The prevailing rates of fare have been 5 cents with one cent for a transfer. The new rate requires 6 cent fare and 2 cents for a transfer.

Mrs. V. J. Roberts of 2023 Fifth street, who has been seriously ill for three weeks, is slightly improved.

Edward Kehler, of Bomley Fork, Ky., who is well known in this city, is seriously ill, suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Plan Membership Drive

Peerless K. of P. Lodge Tuesday night formulated plans for a big membership drive to last several months. Peerless intends to double its membership. The lodge is only three years old and is in the best possible shape. Officers will be installed at next week's meeting.

HERE IS DRUNK NO. 7

William "Pieze" Bill Kennedy, noted police character, made his second appearance in police court this morning since the arid spell set in a month ago, on a charge of drunkenness. He pleaded guilty and the mayor fined him $5 and costs and ordered him held until he gets good and sober. Bill got too much booze aboard last night and then his foot slipped at an eleven and John streets, where Officer Dayne found him and towed him and his lug to the watchhouse. Bill's face and eyes were all bugged up when he appeared in court and in explanation of his appearance, told the mayor he was hurt by falling into a ditch. But his statement was corrected by Officer Wesel, who declared that Kennedy was beat up in a fight by a man named Cutlip.

Put O. K. On Street Fair

Mayor H. B. # Jumps Into Ohio River To Escape Arrest; Drowns

Peculiar circumstances attended the drowning of Addis McGarvey, aged twenty-three years, which occurred in the Ohio river near the Ashland Ferry landing at six o'clock last night. According to the Ashland police McGarvey and another man, who is discovered to have been Gilbert McGarvey, his brother, were fighting on the river bank. A policeman approached and then jumped into the river, apparently with the idea of swimming to the Ohio side, Gilbert McGarvey was rescued but his brother was drowned. During the afternoon, they thought they might be arrested and when they saw an officer approaching they jumped in the river from the ferry. The Ironton story is that Addis McGarvey was a good swimmer but that Gilbert, his brother, could not swim at all, though he jumped in the river with him. While rescuers were busy with the man who could not swim, the more expert brother was lost. Addis McGarvey, the drowned man, had just recently returned from Europe, where he was with the first division.

Building Activity Will Stimulate All Business

Cutting down production, producing way of pay envelopes to the ditch for less food, less clothing, less fuel, never less activity. An immediate resumption of building activities will do more than any one thing to stimulate general business and accelerate the transition of industry from war demobilization to the peace normal. Prices will not be lower until production is increased; costs will not be down until quantity production is resumed. Building is the key to the maximum efficiency of the maximum efficiency of the building through the industrial organization of labor and machinery. By building NOW we will serve our own and the nation's interest.
